CASEY STENGEL KNOCKS HOMER IN 7TH INNING WINNING TODAY'S GAME

Giants Ring Up the Second Victory Over Yankees in Pitchers' Duel That Nearly Ends With Riot

YANKEE STADIUM, NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—Casey Stengel, major league pariah of two years ago, an undesirable who stood, figuratively, on managerial doorsteps, hat in hand, won the third game of the world series for the Giants over the Yanks by hitting his second home run in three days. It was the lone run of the contest. The drive fell into the right field bleachers in the seventh and broke a duel of pitching arts between Art Nehf and Sam Jones, a duel so tense that it gripped the senses like a powerful drive.

Casey Stengel's homer came with two down in the ninth inning of Wednesday's opener. The score in games for the series, therefore, stands: Casey Stengel and the Giants, two victories; the Yankees, one victory.

The story of the game by innings follows:

FIRST INNING—Bancroft up. Foul tip, strike one. Foul, strike two. Ball one, wide. Ball two, low. Foul. Bancroft out on a fly to R. Meusel. Groh up. Ball one, low. Groh safe on Scott's error. Scott muffed an easy grounder. Frisch up. Strike one, called. Strike two, swung. Frisch out, on a fly to Witt. Groh remained at first. Young up. Strike one, called. Ball one, inside. Young out on a fly to Witt, who made a nice running catch.

No runs; no hits; no errors.
SECOND INNING—Witt up. Strike one, called. Frisch to Kelly. Dugan up. Ball one, wide. Strike one, called. Strike two, swung. Ball two, wide. Dugan out, Bancroft to Kelly. Ruth up. The Babe got a great hand when he came to the plate. Ball one, wide. Ball two, inside. Strike one, swung. Two strikes, swung. Ruth singled to center. R. Meusel up. The ball went by Nehf like a bullet after Ruth met the ball for his single. Strike one, called. Ball one, wide. Ball two, wide. Meusel out on a long fly to E. Meusel. No runs; no hits; no errors.

THIRD INNING—First half—E. Meusel up. Ball one, wide. Strike one, called. Meusel out on a fly to R. Meusel. Stengel up. Ball one, wide and low. Ball two, wide. Foul tip, strike one, into stands. Stengel out on a line drive to Witt. Kelly up. Strike one, swung. Strike two, called. Foul into the first stand. Foul. Ball three, inside. Kelly out on a high fly to Scott, who went far back after the ball. No runs; no hits; no errors.
Second half—Pipp up. Ball one, wide. Strike one, called. Pipp out, on a foul to Kelly. Ward up. Strike one, called. Ball one, low. Ball two, wide. Strike two, swung. Foul. Ball three, inside. Ward out on a pop fly which Snyder caught in mid-field. Schang up. Ball one, wide. Strike one, called. Ball two, wide. Foul, strike two. Ball three, wide. Schang out, on a liner to Bancroft. No runs; no hits; no errors.

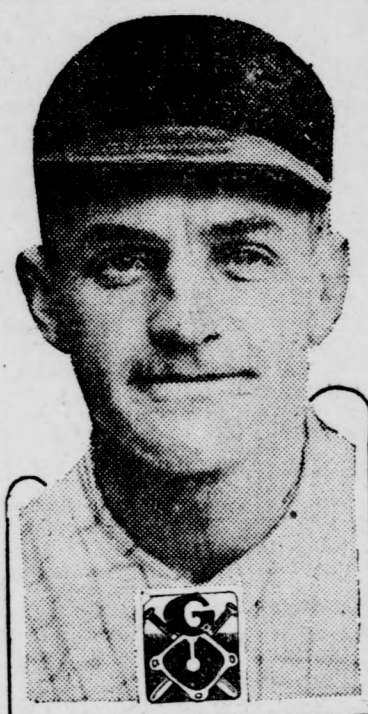

FOURTH INNING—First half—Snyder up. Strike one, called. Ball one, wide. Ball two, wide. Strike two, swung. Snyder out on an easy grounder. Scott to Pipp. Nehf up. Ball one, wide. Strike one, called. Foul, strike two. It went into the stands. Strike three, called. Nehf fanned. Bancroft up. Ball one, low. Ball two, wide. Bancroft out, Ward to Pipp.

No runs; no hits; no errors.
Second half—Scott up. Ball one, wide, and low. Scott out, Bancroft to Kelly. Jones up. Ball one, high. Ball two, wide. Strike one, called. Foul, strike two, into stands. Strike three, fanned. Ball three, inside. Jones fanned the atmosphere. Witt up. Strike one, called. Strike two, called. Strike three, swung. Witt struck out.

No runs; no hits; no errors.
Nehf was given a big hand after he had struck two out in succession.

FIFTH INNING—First half—Groh up. Ball one, inside. Strike one, called. Ball two, wide. Groh out, Scott to Pipp. Frisch up. Ball one, wide. Strike one, called. Ball two, wide. Strike two, swung. Frisch out, on a fly to Witt. Groh remained at first. Young up. Strike one, called. Ball one, wide. Young out on a fly to Witt, who made a nice running catch.

CAPACITY CROWD THROUG STADIUM

World Series Interest Leaps to Fever Heat as Yanks Take Second Game

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service

YANKEE STADIUM, NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—Four hundred and thirty-one years ago to the day, Columbus discovered America, and at the Yankee stadium, New York discovered that it had two ball clubs running a dead heat in the world's series for the supremacy of all baseball, the Giants and the Yanks. It conducted itself accordingly. More than 62,000 hersek citizens hastened within the enclosure to take advantage of the holiday, the mild weather and the prospects that that eminent author, George H. Ruth, is on a rampage against all Giant pitching.

Because of the immoderate turn-out, the gates were opened an hour before scheduled time, and 25,000 fans rushed in and quickly filled the right field bleachers. By 12:15 they closed the bleacher entrances altogether, leaving about 10,000 outside.

The umpires are Nellin at the plate; Hart at first base; Evans at second; and O'Day at third.

GLORIES OF CITY TOLD TO STATE REALTORS

'Cam' Thom Enlivens Oratory Contest With Sallies of Spicy Humor

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 12.—Pasadena was selected as the 1924 convention city of the California Real Estate association at a 1 o'clock today, bringing to a successful end the Crown City's campaign to land the coveted prize.

By H. THOMPSON RICH
Of The Evening News Staff

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 12.—Peter Hanson, Glendale's five minute man, made a most impressive speech in the Home Town Cup contest last night at the beautiful Masonic temple auditorium.

He was twenty-fifth on a list of twenty-eight speakers, their order selected by lot. Fred E. Reed, past president of the California Real Estate association, donor of the cup, presided.

It being Jinks Night, also, the speaking event was not lacking in humorous detail, for which Cam Thom was mainly responsible—that is, he and his Glendale board gang.

Thom Is Time-Keeper
First let it be known Cameron Thom blew the whistle when the speaker's five minutes were up. He also offered naive asides in his well-known stage whisper and he caustically explained the pictures of Pasadena and Oakland, contending convention cities, in the film show preceding the talks.

Charles Eddy of Woodland said Yolo county has the world's champion goat—and intends to keep it—in the course of his remarks about his home town.

"We'll get your goat in about fifteen minutes," countered our comedian Cam, as he tooted the whistle for a full stop.

Alhambra's Death Rate
S. F. Woody of Santa Monica fairly burst with bubbling verse. B. H. Evans of Alhambra, nonchalant as ever, told the assembled realtors the death rate in that city was only one to each person.

PETER HANSON

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 12.—Peter Hanson of Glendale delivered the following "Home Town" speech before the California Real Estate association convention here last night:

MY CITY

I come not to herald my city. Her fame has been proclaimed. I sound no call to help her carry on. Nature's handiwork has made her destiny secure. But I would extol her glory, for the cities of a Nation covet her high place, as "The Fastest Growing City in America."

Her superb scenic setting challenges admiration. Tucked away among the orange groves, snuggled into the nooks of the green Verdugo hills, be-rimmed with poppy-strewn valleys, at the foot of the towering mountains, sentinels of the Almighty, Master-painted, and with God's favor shining down, Nesting there—picturesque and alluring! Is it any wonder the stranger comes in to abide?

Her location and environs are most favored. Lavishly endowed by Nature, at the very threshold of Los Angeles, midway between Hollywood and Pasadena, proximity to beach and sea-side resort, and arteried by a network of pavements that bring these places within a few minutes' time. Hugged by the ever-lasting hills, fanned by the breezes of the Pacific, kissed by California's sunshine, No wonder men choose my city for a home!

She has responded generously to the call of the Better City. A city of homes with an unsurpassed school system, colleges and universities at her door, stately churches for her inspiration, clubs, parks and playgrounds for her recreation, municipally owned light and water, affording low taxes. Civic pride! High ideals! Fine optimism! Here are the institutions of culture and service!

Her abundant resources challenge attention. Liquid gold spouting from near-by der-

BANDITS USE PLANE
REDDING, Calif., Oct. 12.—An unconfirmed report was received here this morning that the posse searching for the Southern Pacific bandits who dynamited a Portland-San Francisco express, at tunnel No. 13, have found evidence which indicates the robbers made their escape in an airplane.

GOMPERS RE-ELECTED
PORTLAND, Oct. 12.—Samuel Gompers was unanimously elected president of the American Federation of Labor at this morning's convention session.

TRAIL TRAIN BANDITS TO MOUNTAIN DIVIDE

California Joins Oregon in Hunt for Robber Gang; Lynching Feared

REDDING, Calif., Oct. 12.—Scores of detectives and peace officers investigating the holdup of Southern Pacific passenger train No. 13, concluded today that the bandits still at large obtained no loot. Postal authorities on the scene refused to give out any information on this point, declaring they had not completed a check of the car's contents.

ASHLAND, Ore., Oct. 12.—The greatest man hunt in the history of the state of Oregon and California is in progress today bent on the capture of bandits who yesterday afternoon held up the Southern Pacific "San Francisco Express," shot and killed four members of the crew.

All of Northern California and Southern Oregon is inflamed today at the holdest train robbery since the days of the old west and open threats have been made that summary justice will be meted out to the bandits if they are caught. To guard against lynching a company of the Oregon militia has been called out in uniform and is taking an active part in the search through the mountains. One theory that the bandits may have fled in an automobile has given some credence today as the California-Oregon highway loops within seventy-five feet of the tunnel mouth.

List of Dead
The dead:
Sidney Bates, engineer.
Marvin Seng, fireman.
C. O. Johnson, brakeman.
Elwyn E. Daugherty, mail clerk.

UNCLE'S SLAYER DYING OF WOUNDS

Redwood City Wielder of Hatchet Robbed Wealthy Kin in Crime

REDWOOD CITY, Calif., Oct. 12.—James Moore, hatchet slayer of his wealthy and aged uncle, James H. Doolittle, was dying today at the Redwood City hospital from a self-inflicted revolver wound. Hospital attaches said his death was expected momentarily.

Moore shot himself when trapped in a closet in the Doolittle home by deputy sheriffs. According to J. Carroll Doolittle, son of James H. Doolittle, Moore, who had spent the night at his home, held up the entire family at the breakfast table with a revolver. The younger Doolittle said that, after forcing him to assist in binding his father, Moore ordered Mrs. Doolittle and himself upstairs, where he bound and gagged both.

Late yesterday the younger Doolittle managed to escape his bonds and, leaping from a window, notified the officers, who broke into the locked house and trapped Moore in a closet. The elder Doolittle was found, his skull crushed in by a hatchet blow, bound in a chair, with a comforter thrown over the body.

POSTMASTER WIRES FROM WASHINGTON PLANS OKEH FOR $50,000 INVESTMENT

By RALPH A. LYND
Of The Evening News Staff

The site for Glendale's new postoffice has been selected at the southwest corner of East Broadway and Jackson street, according to a telegram received from Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson, now at Washington, D. C., by Assistant Postmaster George Hallett this morning.

The telegram announcing the successful culmination of the efforts to secure a bigger and more commodious postoffice for Glendale, one that would accommodate the city's rapidly increasing postal business, follows:

"Monroe proposition for new postoffice approved and passed to budget today, and final approval can be expected within ten days. Advise Monroe interests of acceptance as we will expect quick action as soon as specifications are completed. Hope that department's decision for new building will please citizens of Glendale."

The Monroe referred to in the telegram is Lewis A. Monroe, 422 Hollingsworth building, Los Angeles, the owner of the property.

Baird Made Deal
A. L. Baird, 213 East Broadway, carried through the negotiations from their initiation, and, in company with Assistant Postmaster General Hall, who was here for the purpose, inspected a number of sites before selecting the Monroe property as the one on which the bid was to be made.

As a part of the bid submitted, one clause provides for an iron clad contract that the building will be ready for occupancy in 90 days after the work is started, and plans are now being prepared by the Austin Construction company of Los Angeles, for submission to Postmaster Jackson immediately on his return to Glendale.

$50,000 Investment
The building will front 100 feet on East Broadway and 150 feet on South Jackson street, covering two entire lots, and will cost at least $35,000. Brick will be used in the structure, which is to be two stories high and which will be equipped with over $15,000 worth of appliances to fit it up properly for the uses of the postoffice department. The equipment will be installed by Mr. (Continued on page 3)

Personal Mention
F. L. Harwood of West Elk avenue has returned to his work in Los Angeles after an illness of two weeks.
Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Bates have recently moved from 1258 North Elm street to Piedmont street, La Crescenta.

Mr. Oscar L. Whitaker of 1246 Justin avenue entertained at a birthday dinner Wednesday night in honor of her husband. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Carlock and Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Mentzer, of 120 West Laurel street, and Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Mentzer and daughter, Mildred, of 326 West Cypress avenue, were the guests recently of Mr. and Mrs. J. Carter at their ranch near Whittier.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Meek, of 321 East Maple avenue, entertained as their guest on Wednesday, H. Reising, of St. Louis, Mo., an old friend and former neighbor of the Meeks when they made their home in St. Louis.

Mr. and Mrs. Newton W. McBryde, of 126 North Louise street, accompanied their son and daughter-in-law, Attorney and Mrs. James McBryde, to Bakersfield, where they spent an enjoyable two days on a combined business and pleasure trip. They made the trip via automobile.

Harry A. James, of 1560 East Wilson street, Glendale's monologist, delivered an interesting lecture on Thursday at the South Side Ebell club on "Making Geniuses Records." He also delighted his listeners with several of his monologues and several of his records were also presented.

Mr. and Mrs. Clem Moore, of 364 West California street, are having the pleasure of entertaining as their house guests, Mr. Moore's nephews, Lee Morgan and Robert Williams, of West Virginia. Mrs. Morgan will join Mr. Morgan in a few weeks and they and Mr. Williams will make their permanent home in Riverside.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Loren Mitchell, of 1241 South Boynton avenue, have been entertaining as their house guests Mr. and Mrs. William Reed of Washington, D. C., who are sojourning in southern California for several months. Wednesday, Mrs. R. E. McKee, of El Paso, and her brother, Arthur Woods, of Los Angeles, were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Mustard, of 616 West Myrtle street, have received word from Mrs. Mustard's sister, Mrs. Loretta Calentine, of Dayton, Ohio, that she will soon arrive here to make her permanent home. Mr. and Mrs. Mustard have just recently sold their home on West Myrtle street to Mr. and Mrs. Normandine and in about two weeks will move to an apartment on East Broadway where they will make their home temporarily.

Social Events
Meet at School
The first regular meeting of the Central Avenue Parent-Teacher association was held yesterday afternoon at the schoolhouse with the president, Mrs. O. G. Thompson, presiding.
During the business session committee chairmen for the various committees were appointed as follows: Membership, Miss Annie L. McIntyre; patriotic, Miss Janet Perkins; visiting, Mrs. Grandville Jones; courtesy, Mrs. Henry Kressman; kindergarten, Miss Alice L. Livsey; playground, Miss Olive Taylor and Mrs. J. S. Dickerson; juvenile court, Mrs. R. E. Sides; program, Mrs. E. E. Harwood; music, Mrs. Helen Graham Cole; philanthropic, Mrs. Rex Kelly; art, Mrs. D. F. Reichard.

The afternoon's program included an interesting talk by Mrs. Mary O. Ryan relative to the international and national convention of education held during the summer months at San Francisco. Mrs. E. B. Moore, president of the Parent-Teacher Federation also gave an interesting and helpful talk on association work. Mrs. Helen Graham Cole delighted the members present with two vocal solos accompanied on the piano by Mrs. G. H. Horn. Prizes for the largest attendance of mothers, according to the room count, were awarded as follows: First prize, a beautiful picture, was awarded to Mrs. Edwards, of which Miss Elizabeth Edwards is teacher, and second prize of a lovely vase of flowers was awarded to Mrs. Bertie E. Emery's first-grade class.

At the close of the program, a social hour was enjoyed and refreshments served.

Delphin Groups
"Dramatic Instincts" and "The Earliest Greek Drama" were the subjects discussed at the group meetings of the Delphians yesterday morning from 10 to 12 o'clock.
The Ivy group, of which Mrs. B. W. Bolton is leader, met with Mrs. E. D. Yard, 429 North Maryland. A general discussion of early Greek drama followed, followed by the story of Prometheus, by Mrs. E. D. Yard, the drama of Prometheus, by Miss Martha Cox, the story of Aeschylus, by Mrs. S. P. Davis, and the story of Agamemnon, by Mrs. Harry Wilcox, made a very interesting morning program.

The Lotus group met at the same hour at the home of Mrs. Barton Manbert, first vice-president of the chapter, 621 South Columbus avenue. Mrs. Paul C. Mason is the leader of this group. The president of the chapter, Mrs. O. P. Lucas, who is a member of the group, presented the subject of the early Greek drama, Mrs. Barton Manbert, Aeschylus, and Mrs. M. B. Russell, the story of Prometheus, Mrs. R. E. Chase read "Prometheus Bound" by Longfellow.

There are fifteen members in this group. Two new members were added yesterday. The general chapter meeting will be held the fourth Thursday in the month at the home of Mrs. S. P. Davis, 217 North Orange street.

Hostess at Club
Honoring Mrs. Hugh K. Bradford of Sacramento, Calif., state president of the California Federation of Parent-Teachers' associations, Mrs. John Robert White, Jr., of 247 North Orange street, is entertaining informally this afternoon at Plinridge Country club. Mrs. White is state chairman of child labor and her guests this afternoon are leaders in the local P. T. A. work.

She invited for tea Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson, Mrs. E. B. Moore, Mrs. E. S. McKee and Miss Eva Daniels. Yesterday Mrs. White went to Pasadena to attend a luncheon for Mrs. Bradford. She reports that there were 150 persons seated about the luncheon tables. There were nine principals present, representing eighteen schools. An interesting part of the program was a speech of greeting from Mr. Allen of the Pasadena Chamber of Commerce, who recalled the time when there was but one teacher in Pasadena. Now there are 500 included in the city's teaching corps.

Progressive Party
The members of the mathematics department of the Glendale high school faculty enjoyed a most pleasant evening Tuesday when they were entertained at a "progressive party" at the home of Mrs. E. H. Amet, 113 E. Broadway. The guests were invited to dinner at 7 o'clock by Mrs. and Mrs. Robert Frank Pickett, and Mrs. Frank Cordon. Mrs. Cordon is a newcomer from Phoenix, Ariz., who has located at Campbell and Stocker streets in Casa Verdugo.

S. L. Gillan of 263 West Maple avenue has returned from a three-months' trip to the British Isles. He was accompanied by his father, S. Y. Gillan of Milwaukee, Wis. They combined business with pleasure, dividing their time between London, England, and visits in the homes of relatives in Ireland and Scotland. They also spent some time in Washington, D. C. on the way home.

To prevent automobile hoods rattling there has been invented a rubber vacuum cup to grip them and their fastenings to prevent movement.

Study Shakespeare
At the meeting of the Shakespeare section of the Tuesday afternoon club at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon in the tea room of the clubhouse, Mrs. Mazie Garrett, instructor, will begin the study of "The Twelfth Night."

Mrs. Walter Jones, curator of the section, will be hostess, and all members of the club are invited to attend.

Farewell Honor
Miss Genevieve Schroeder, who is leaving the Glendale branch of the Los Angeles Security, Trust & Savings bank, and will shortly become the bride of Harry Berkheimer of Long Beach, was happily surprised last night at a farewell affair given by Miss Mildred Johnson at her home at 314 North Orange street. The guests were all young women associated with Miss Schroeder and Miss Johnson at the bank.

Miss Schroeder, who has resided at the Johnson home, had retired, when she was called to answer a telephone call she found Miss Johnson and her guests gathered to greet her. Card games were enjoyed by the company and Miss Schroeder, who is a talented vocalist, entertained with a group of songs.

Later a lunch was served on a table prettily decorated in a pink color scheme. A large bouquet of pink sweetpeas formed the centerpiece and pink favor baskets marked the places. Miss Schroeder was the recipient of a set of solid silver butter knives in the William and Mary pattern, a gift from those present. Miss Johnson was assisted in receiving and entertaining by her mother, Mrs. C. L. Johnson.

Those invited for the affair were Misses Anna Bruchs, Ethel M. Preston, Mildred Cole, Evelyn Wilson, Helen Dwyer, Edna Platt, Marie Clennin, Hallie Drake, Dorothy McGinnis and Mesdames Janice Lee, Lavera Percy, Elsie S. Wilson and Emma G. Wright. Miss Schroeder will leave Monday for Long Beach.

Initiate Five
Initiation of five candidates will be the feature of the meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the local Legion post Monday night in the Legion hall on East Broadway. In the absence of Mrs. Margaret Kaeding, the president, who is in San Francisco at the national convention, Mrs. T. Rowley, first vice-president, will preside. The meeting will begin at 7:30 o'clock.

Those to be initiated are Mrs. Ethel Budd, Miss Ethel Vera Fortier, Mrs. Elizabeth Brower, Mrs. Louise T. Baron and Mrs. H. M. Scott.

The Auxiliary is to hold a cooked food sale tomorrow morning at 643 East Broadway.

November Exhibit
Continuing the splendid opportunity for studying art from exhibits of talented artists, inaugurated last year under the presidency of Mrs. D. F. Reichard, the Central Avenue Parent-Teacher association is to have an exhibit of 150 prints loaned by the Print Society of California for the month of November.

This collection, which was secured by Mrs. Reichard, who is chairman of art for the association, is one of the traveling collections and includes prints, etchings, lithographs and block prints in colors and black and white by artists all over the world.

Law Conference
Representing the Parliamentary Law Section of the Tuesday Afternoon club Mrs. C. A. Brandstater, Mrs. Fred Abbey and Mrs. W. H. Verity, attended the parliamentary law conference held yesterday morning in Los Angeles. The meeting had been called by the district parliamentarian, Mrs. C. S. McKelvey, for club presidents, chairmen, and interested members. Suggestions were made relative to making the drill a delight rather than a "bugbear" and of ways to help timid members take a more active part in club activities.

Work for Booth
Tuesday Afternoon club women, who are members of the Parliamentary Law section and other groups arranging for the parcel post booth for the coming society circus, are to meet Monday afternoon with Mrs. W. H. Verity at 511 West Broadway.

The Parliamentary Law section of the club is to meet at 2 o'clock Monday, October 22, in the palm room of the clubhouse for a regular gathering. Mrs. C. A. Brandstater, curator, will preside, and she cordially invites all club members to attend and take part in the section's activities.

With Mrs. Johnson
There were seventy women of the Lydia class of the Glendale Presbyterian church delightfully entertained at luncheon yesterday by Mrs. David Johnson at her home in Montrose.

The Johnson home is new and yesterday it was beautifully decorated with fall flowers. The next meeting of the class will be held the second Thursday in November with Miss Jennie Horsch at Azusa. Miss Horsch is doing missionary work there among the Mexicans.

Card Club Meets
The Wilson Avenue P. T. A. card club will entertain Monday at the home of the president, Mrs. H. A. Thim, 505 West Wilson avenue. The card parties are to be a regular bi-monthly feature of the activities of the organization and were inaugurated to promote social intercourse and also to assist in the finances of the association.

Gives Luncheon
Mrs. W. W. McElroy of 510 South Adams street entertained the members of the social committee of the Berean class of the First Baptist church at her home on Tuesday at luncheon. At this time plans were made for a social afternoon to be given Friday, October 19.

Kindergartners
Mrs. D. B. Edwards presided yesterday at the meeting of the Acacia Avenue Kindergarten auxiliary. A feature of the meeting was a shower of gifts for the new kindergartners.

Tea and wafers were served by the following: Mesdames Alexander, Wilson, Klapper and E. C. Carlson.

DEATHS—FUNERALS
MRS. MARY E. WILKES
Mrs. Mary E. Wilkes of 1233 Orange Grove avenue, and infant daughter, died last night, Thursday, October 11, 1933.
Mrs. Wilkes was born May 10, 1897, in Fillmore. She came to Glendale with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Jepson of 420 South Lincoln avenue, two brothers, Frank Jepson of Eagle Rock and Herbert Jepson of Glendale, and two sisters, Miss Elsie Jepson and Miss Nellie Jepson of Glendale. Jesse Wilkes survives his wife.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, Saturday, October 13, 1933, in the chapel of Kiefer & Eyerick. Interment will be in Grand View cemetery.

JOHN MADDEN
Funeral services for John Madden of 900 East Colorado street will be held under the direction of L. G. Scovena at 9 o'clock Saturday morning, October 13, 1933, Holy Family Catholic church. Interment will be in Calvary cemetery, Los Angeles.

Madden died yesterday, Thursday, October 11, 1933, in a Los Angeles hospital, after a month's illness. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Madden and five small children.

At G. A. R. Hall
The Kensington club of the Women's Relief Corps is to meet Wednesday, October 17, in the G. A. R. hall on South Glendale

Ford's Attack on Weeks Is Laid Before Coolidge
WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—Henry Ford's attack upon Secretary of War Weeks for sale by the government of the Gorgas steam and power plant at Muscle Shoals, Ala., to the Alabama Power company was laid directly before President Coolidge and the cabinet today.

Weeks is understood to have asked the advice of the president and his advisers as to what action should be taken by the federal government.

The antics of the tidal waves following the earthquake demonstrate anew that the ocean is built too close to the shore.

from Portland to San Francisco.
Passengers on the train were unmolested by the bandits, but about a score suffered minor face and scalp injuries when the robbers dynamited the mail car.
The force of the explosion was so great as to entirely demolish the mail car which took fire following the blast.

It is believed the bandits were frustrated in their attempt to loot
the mail car, the explosion having demolished the car, which later burned. The body of Dougherty was found burned to a crisp. The dynamite was either thrown into the car through the window or placed underneath, officers on the

Orioles Win Second 'Little Series' Game

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 12.—
The Baltimore Orioles yesterday afternoon evened up the count in the "little world series" by taking the second game from Kansas City 2 to 1. Each team has now won a game. Groves, on the hill for Baltimore, held the Blues to four hits.

scene stated today.
Authorities declared that the bandits carefully laid plans for the hold-up, basing their theory
on the finding of three sets of creosoted shoe pads, which were left in the hurried departure of the robbers, apparently for use in making their way into the mountain fastness.

Walton May Defeat Impeachment Plan

STATE CAPITOL, OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Oct. 12.—The senate of the Oklahoma legislature had only a ten-minute session today, adjourning under the rule until Monday at 1:30 o'clock.
Two of the forty-four members of this body, which was called in to extraordinary session by Governor J. C. Walton "to enact an anti-Ku Klux Klan plan" were reported ineligible.

This left the party line strength
at thirty democrats and twelve republicans. It will take twenty-nine members to impeach after the house brings the indictment which is expected next week, observers said. This looks unlikely.

TUJUNGA STRICKEN WOMAN REGAINS SPEECH

Dr. Virginia Smith Recovers Consciousness After Collapse at Home

TUJUNGA, Oct. 12.—Dr. Virginia Smith was in a slightly improved condition late yesterday
and her physicians were feeling more optimistic regarding her recovery.

A statement was made by attendants at the Tujunga sanitarium where she is being cared for that her mind had cleared a little after more than a week of semiconsciousness and that she was beginning to ask questions. This was received by the attending physicians as a good indication.

It was at first feared that Dr.
Smith had been the victim of foul play, but Dr. Frances Hankins, who was first called to attend the stricken woman, called in brain specialists and their diagnosis was cerebral hemorrhage.

Complications Enue
Dr. Smith has not entirely regained the power of coherent speech. Her condition has been complicated by meningitis. The turn for the better was reported as the opinion of the four physicians who have been in consultation on the case. The statement was that she was holding her own,
and the return of interest indicated by Dr. Smith's questions might indicate the beginning of recovery.

Dr. Smith was alone in her home at El Centro and Monte Vista boulevard when the attack came. From the evidence, she arose from her bed, walked downstairs and out into the back yard, falling on the stone flagging. It is believed that she received the scalp wound when she fell.

Mrs. Nanno Woods Plans Reception

Mrs. Nanno Woods, director of the Community Players, is entertaining the members of the Community Players with a reception
in the Palm court of the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse in honor of Jay Wellington, producer of "A Night in Dreamland" and R. Stevenson, art director of the Community Players.

Mr. Stevenson has just recently been affiliated with the Community Players and is a young man of remarkable ability and winning personality. He has had two years' experience as director of the Little Theater of Chicago,
and comes to Glendale with numerous ideas which will prove of considerable benefit to the Community Players. He is already at work, making models for the scenery to be used in "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" to be produced the first week in November
by the players.

The affair to be given Monday evening will also be in the nature of an inauguration meeting of a social section of the Community Players. All members of the Community Players, and others interested in music, dramatics, and dancing are extended a cordial invitation to attend.

Mrs. Woods states one does not need to take an active part in the activities of the Community Players to join this social section, but those desiring to join as interested members are cordially invited to attend the reception on Monday night at 7:30 o'clock.

Reception Given New Presbyterian Members

A reception was given at the Glendale Presbyterian church last night for the new members who have joined the congregation since last July. Mrs. E. B. Sutton was chairman of the reception committee and C. E. Stewart had charge of the program.
The affair was held in the social hall of the new Sunday school building which was beautifully decorated with vines and flowers.
A bright fire in the large fire place added to the warmth and cheer of the occasion.
The Rev. Louis Twining, assistant pastor, introduced C. E.
Stewart, who took charge of the program. The male quartette
from the First Methodist Episcopal church of Glendale sang. Miss Anita Fletcher gave a reading and
the Misses Corine and Mary Ellen Fittinger presented a violin and whistling duet. O. W. Andersen, accompanied by Miss Helen L.
Capus, led the audience in community singing.
The new members were welcomed by John Swearin and Philemon Bevis responded on their behalf. Refreshments were served by the hospitality committee
under the direction of Mrs. Katherine Sooy.

COMMENT That's All

Glendale's Prosperity Seen
Hanson's Home Town Talk
Some Wisdom and Wit
Those Who Get the Cash

By Gil A. Cowan

Indications that Glendale has attained a metropolitan growth
that means permanent prosperity
are evinced by recent business changes. Five years ago the Chief of Police came into the field, to be followed by Rock Bottom, Seelig and other similar enterprises.
Then the banks from Los Angeles began stretching out and recognizing this city as a business factor, and more are coming, while others have been started locally
to aid in the progress of the city.
The national stores, such as Kress
and Woolworth, also have come.
And these have been followed by the Sun and Owl drug companies.
It is interesting to note the kaleidoscopic changes here, to see the biggest business interests take cognizance of "the fastest growing city in America," which ten years ago was enjoying its first real awakening with the establishment of The Glendale Evening
News as a daily publication.

At that time the publishers in Pasadena and Long Beach and Los Angeles were, no doubt, wondering why, but the vision of the future was plainly visible. However, opportunity is seen better at a distance, or by a stranger in our midst.
And so it goes, but the man with the vision of Glendale in its great "tomorrow" is going to be enriched doubly over—perhaps double that. It is our advice to buy, build and boost. Incidentally boost for the sewer, which means more to Glendale than any issue ever brought before a city of this size.

On another page you will find the "Home Town" oration delivered by Peter Hanson, Glendale
realtor, before the California Real Estate convention last night. The Glendale Evening News is printing it in full, for it is something well worth sending to your friends in the east.
Forget the baseball for a minute, disregard the latest news and read over the paragraphs captured "My City." It is one of the many things which make life worth living.

Here is a little specialty number on today's program—a quarter of thoughts gleaned from other newspapers which team with wisdom and wit:
We are on the earth for a few years. We ought to see the earth, travel it, know it, and possess it.
If you haven't an automobile, get one, the best that you can afford.
—San Francisco Call.

Next war may be fought without noises, says a scientist, who overlooks the figure the click of a typewriter cut in the last one.
—San Bernardino Sun.

When a statesman, striking a deep chest tone, solemnly declares that two times two is four, there is always an answering chorus of "How true that is!"—Berkeley Gazette.

The only way a pedestrian can hope to be safe these days on the auto-infested streets is for a windshield to be invented which will make the poor "ped" look like a rut in the road or a pile of broken glass.—Willows Journal.

For our thinking friends, who like a heavy afterpiece, we have selected an editorial from the San Bernardino Sun, entitled, "Those Who Get the Cash," which says
just what the writer thinks, except the paragraphs are too long. See what you think of it:
"The playing of the world series, at New York, revives discussion concerning financial rewards of the diamond heroes. Last year each member of the winning team received about $5300 as his share of the receipts.
The losing players got around $3500 apiece. About $600,000
was divided among the team owners, the two leagues and the advisory council. The total receipts exceeded $900,000. This year the managers expect an even richer yield from the pockets of the fans. It is remarked that the average college professor or clergyman does not receive as much in an entire year as these ball players for a week's work.
But neither does the average lawyer or doctor, the country over.
Teachers and preachers ought to be better paid, but that is no argument for reducing the amount of the champion ball players' annual pick-up. The size of their reward merely emphasizes the fact that financial payments are not at all in accordance with the services rendered to society."

"Money is not the measure of the man. The great patriot enjoys no such income as that of the comic cartoonist who makes millions laugh. The most finished actor on the American stage is a pauper compared with Charley Chaplin. The writer of 'best sellers' is a capitalist, whereas the accomplished literary artist may have trouble making income balance outgo. The public is always ready to reward richly those who entertain it. Those who lead and inspire it and heal its physical and spiritual ailments must find their chief recompense in the consciousness of duty done.
"The public will submit to being taught and admonished and helped by experts, but it is not going to pay them as much as the folk who provide amusement for its leisure hours. It is not even going to pay its statesmen, who bear the burden of government,
as much, nor its captains of industry, large, proportionately, as their salaries may appear. This system of apportioning financial rewards is likely to continue—as long, at least, as amusement is the fetish of so large a portion of the population."

Gelmor Answers Young Men's Tailoring Query

The question of "What young men will wear?" this season is now being answered for the fourth consecutive year in Glendale by A.
Gelmor, local tailor. Mr. Gelmor has served a discriminating clientele in Glendale during the last four years, at the location of his establishment, 138 South Brand boulevard.

With a $15,000 stock of imported woollens for suits and overcoats, Mr. Gelmor announces that he is prepared to take care of the requirements of those who desire the ultra-fashionable touch in clothing. In purchasing the goods for the new season a thorough investigation of the markets was made and the purchases were ofers.

BRILLIANT SCENE AT REALTY BALL

Lavishly Gowned Women Add Atmosphere of Beauty
to Opening Affair

By DOROTHY RICH
Written for The Evening News
SACRAMENTO, Oct. 12.—The President's ball, officially opening the nineteenth annual convention of the California Real Estate association, at the Hotel Sacramento Wednesday night, was made brilliant by the presence of hundreds of women, beautifully gowned.

The guests were received by Frazier O. Reed, president of the state board, Mrs. Reed, E. J. Morrissey, president of the Sacramento association, and Mrs. Morrissey, Lou F. Eppich, president of the national association, and Mrs.
Frederick Reed, wife of the past president of the state association.

Brilliant Scene
Dancing started at 10 o'clock and continued until after 1. Those in the caravan from the Southland
in spite of their two days of hard travel, joined wholeheartedly in the fun and remained until the last strains of "Home Sweet Home."

Flags of all the nations and balloons of all colors of the rainbow made the ballroom a brilliant spectacle. Although it had been announced as informal, many of the women came attired in gorgeous evening array, adding much to the brilliancy of the affair.

Mrs. Frazier Reed wore a beautiful imported gown of coral georgette, embellished with silver sequins. Mrs. Frederick Reed was gowned in American beauty, a foul velvet cut very low and with shoulder straps of billants. Mrs.
Morrissey wore old blue and silver cloth, with a band of the latter around her head.

Gorgeous Costumes
Among the other guests who were beautifully costumed were Mrs. Chris R. Jones, chairman of the reception committee, who wore a green taffeta with silver trimming; Mrs. Williamam, wife of Glenn D. Williamam, state secretary, in orchid georgette; Mrs.
Crothers, wife of Charles Crothers,
state treasurer, in white lace; Mrs.
Guthrie, of Glendale, wife of Charles B. Guthrie, a director of the state board, in blue and gray;
Mrs. Thom, wife of Cameron B.
Thom, president of the Glendale
board, in blue charmeuse; Dr.
Jessie A. Russell of Glendale, in a gown of jade green georgette, heavily beaded; Mrs. George Mc-Comber of Santa Barbara in black lace; Mrs. J. Bradley Clayton of San Jose in shell pink and silver; Mrs. J. I. Wernette of Glendale in black crepe and Mrs. Will Wright of Sacramento in orchid.

Who said prices were not going down?
They are dropping so rapidly that, in the brief period between the printing of the three sections of The Glendale Evening News today, the De Luxe Upholstering company, 2773 Broadway, Eagle Rock, reported a new schedule of prices.
The company advertisement is dollars will be deducted from the price quoted on all the items listed in the advertisement, it is stated.

Minnesota Attorney Settles in Glendale

Judge and Mrs. J. N. Haagen-son, formerly of Fergus Falls, Minn., arrived here last Friday
and have settled here as permanent residents of Glendale. Judge Haagen, who was judge of the municipal court of Fergus Falls,
is an old friend of P. C. Brown, of the local branch of the Frank Moline Co., 227 South Grand boulevard, and expects later to engage in the practice of the legal profession here, beside devoting his attention to the local realty market.

The trip from Fergus Falls was made by automobile, via the Yellowstone trail to Yellowstone park, through to Seattle and on down the Highway to Southern California.

Poor Health Forces U. P. Chief to Quit

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—Announcement was made here today that Robert S. Lovett has resigned as chairman of the executive committee of the Union Pacific railroad, the resignation to take effect January 1, next. The action was taken upon the advice of his physicians.

John S. Lovett will continue to represent the railroad's interests
in railroad consolidation matters and in the work of figuring the valuation of the railroad, in which the interstate commerce commission is now engaged.

Harding Association Seeks $3,000,000 Fund

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—The Harding Memorial association, which will launch a nation-wide campaign to raise $3,000,000 "to maintain in perpetuity" the memory of the late president, was formally organized here today when a meeting of the board of directors was called to order by President Coolidge.
The meeting was held in the office of Brigadier General Charles E. Sawyer, the White House physician, who will be in charge of the Washington headquarters of the association.

likened his hamlet to a debutante
of the 1923 fall season, but by far the most remarkable and best applauded speech was made by Tiny Leslie Tanner, aged 5, of Fullerton, son of Mr. and Mrs.
L. L. Tanner. He never faltered
in a stirring talk, receiving a standing ovation that continued
for many minutes.
Not being a realtor he is not eligible to receive the big cup,
but he will receive a junior cup
for his real talent. The contest will not be announced until tonight at a banquet. The judges are Mitchell Nathan, president of the Sacramento Chamber of Commerce; D. W. Carmichael, former Sacramento mayor and past president of the California
Real Estate association; and Frank P. Merriam, speaker of the California assembly of the state legislature.

Urges Co-operation in Development of State

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 12.—The keynote of the California Real Estate association in session here was struck by N. H. Sloane, manager of the California Development association, in a speech here late yesterday, when he declared
it is high time for the California Real Estate association and its own organization to get together for the development of the state along economic lines.

Duplicate Efforts
"There is too much duplication of effort," he said. "California has three thousand separate organizations with a common aim.
One million dollars a year is being spent in advertising. With co-ordination this same sum could accomplish vastly more."

Many great projects of men's dreams await the word of co-operation for achievement. To be builders we must first be learners, then thinkers, then doers. I cannot too strongly stress the need of co-operation at this hour of California's history-making epoch."

From north, south and west,
the greatest motor caravans in the history of the state have poured their 1000 and more delegates into the capital city, for the biggest convention in the history of the association.

Pasadena Next Year

Over 50 boards are represented, Stanley Livingston and two other delegates from Honolulu being present. "We will have to hold the 1925 convention in the Yosemite park if it keeps up like this," says Frazier O. Reed, state president. "As it is, we expect to burst Pasadena clear out of her jacket, next year!"

Picturesque, indeed, is the story of these caravans, historic in contrast with the caravans of "covered wagons" that brought our forefathers overcame of the same roads. Such different caravans! Such different roads!

"You are building this state,"
Mayor Albert Elkus of Sacramento told the delegates at the Thursday morning session in the Masonic temple. "You are as much pioneers as those settlers, in your way." It was his address of welcome that brought forth that significant statement.

Glendale Leads
Reflecting the almost miraculous way in which the Southland
is forging into state leadership,
the caravan from Southern California was twice the size of that from the north. And reflecting the startling growth of Glendale,
"the fastest growing city in America" had more delegates in proportion to size than any other board assembled.

From San Fernando, the starting point, to Sacramento, the finish, Glendale cheered and was cheered, through every town, city
and county of the long run.
Everyone likes Glendale. Everyone wants to know more about Glendale. Nearly everyone is coming to Glendale—sometime.

Big Capital Coming
One gains the impression here,
from talking with delegates from all over the state, that nothing can stop Glendale. We are regarded as another city of destiny
—another Hollywood, another Long Beach. In a scant two or three years, tall buildings will rise all along Grand boulevard
and Broadway, more than one delegate said, families with development in our city.
Big capital is ready to come

GLENDALE MEETS SANTA BARBARA

Saturday's Game Regarded as Certain Victory for Local Eleven

Glendale football fans will have an opportunity to witness a real game tomorrow when the high school gridiron when the local varsity meets the strong Santa Barbara eleven. According to the dope, Glendale should win
by three touchdowns, but the invaders are liable to upset that at any time.

The Red and Black aggregation has been sailing right along this season, and undoubtedly is one of the best Glendale has ever had. A well-balanced backfield and a fast line combine to mould a championship squad. Although the local team is light, the average being only about 157 pounds, it is fast and hard-hitting.
The Santa Barbara eleven has a very clever open-field system of attack and will keep the Red and Black ends and backs busy holding them. Glendale has shown up pretty well at the aerial offensive and may be expected to give them some of their own medicine.

Admission will be fifty cents,
except for students who do not have a student body ticket.
Grammar school pupils will also be admitted for twenty-five cents.

The local line-up will be: Zaun or Phillips, center; Brucker and Morrison, guards; Dotson and Hartman, tackles; Horri and La-Ties, ends; D. Elliott, quarter;
Ryan and West, halves; H. Elliott, full.

The team will be selected by Coach Normal C. Hayhurst from the following candidates:

Center—C. Phillips or C. Zaun.
Guards—M. Morrison, J. Offutt,
H. Weaver, A. Brucker and E. Fitz.
Tackles—H. Hartman, D. Fan-
non, L. Dotson and H. Fish.
Ends—M. Horri, C. Denney, B.
Paulowsky, L. Lavelle, E. Bradner, and I. Carver.
Quarterbacks—D. Elliott or A.
Gingery.

Halfbacks—R. West, R. Ryan,
Jim Crow, and D. Dietrich.
Fullbacks—H. Elliott or C.
Badour.

Games in the Central league,
which consists of Glendale, Monrovia, South Pasadena, Alhambra, Covina and Citrus, will commence October 19th.

Toast to Glendale 'Dreamland' Feature

The presentation of "A Night in Dreamland," under the auspices of St. Mark's guild, at the Theater, national organ of the clubhouse Wednesday and Thursday, was featured by the recitation of a toast to Glendale by Randolph H.
Bennett, one of the woodland nymphs in the cast. The toast follows:

In the heart of Glendale
A garden grew
Of American beauties,
Not a few.

From this garden fair
Choice blooms so rare
Were gathered for Dreamland
And for you.

CHURCH HERE GROWS

The First Presbyterian church
of Glendale has made rapid strides
in its growth during the last year, according to a report in The Continent, national organ of the church. From a rank of 151 in the list of congregations it has sprung to 122nd place with 1100 members.

to Glendale. They have watched until they see we are "ripe"
to go. Lack of a sewerage system was the only drawback. Now we have everything for a city of 100-000 or more.

Since arriving at the convention city, Wednesday night, there has not been a dull moment.
From the president's ball that night to the big banquet Friday night and the sight-seeing tour
this morning and golf tournament
tomorrow, there has been constant activity.

NEVADA NEXT ON U. S. C. SCHEDULE

Saturday's Battle to Furnish Correct Dope on Trojan Playing Ability

By "DOC." M'GILLIS
Of The Evening News Staff
With the Caltek and Pomona games in the "past and forgotten"
discard, Coach Elmer G. "Gloomy Gus" Henderson, the man who has placed the University of Southern California at the very top rung of the country's football ladder within four brief years, is this week industriously engaged in putting this 1923 grid entry in tip-top shape for Saturday's annual struggle with the University of Nevada. And, from all reports coming from the Methodist institution, the Trojans are going through anything but a "pink tea"
under the watchful supervision of Henderson and his corps of assistants.

As has often been stated, Henderson's eleven are the most defying aggregations in the West's collegiate athletics. This year's squad's performances have been even more baffling than heretofore. Heralded as the class of the Pacific coast and voted by many as the prospective winners of the conference, the Cardinal and Gold machine has made anything but an impressive showing in its first two games of the year. Being scored on by two recognized weaker teams does not speak so well
for the squad's defensive, especially against forward passes! While being held for downs several times in the very shadows of their goal posts clearly points that there is room for improvement in the backfield.

Bears Look Better In spite of their disappointing showings made to date it's almost a sure bet that U. S. C. will not lose more than one contest this year. In mentioning the Califor- nia game, which is scheduled to take place in the Los Angeles Col- iseum on November 10, present indications would lead the aver- age fan to believe that the Golden Bears are about one touch-down better than the Sons of Troy.

Next Saturday's game with Nevada and the California-Olympic club fracas at Berkeley will be bound to give the prophets more dope. Even should U. S. C. emerge from her conflict with Nevada with but a few points more than her opponent, every speculator
will know whether or not Henderson was holding his men "under blankets." Andy Smith uses different tactics with his Blue and Gold eleven. If he can trounce the Olympic club 50 to 0, it's a cinch he'll do it—whatever score California makes is just about as much as they could ever make.

After all—hadn't we better wait until November 10?

'High' Lightweights in Double Program Today

The two lightweight football teams clash today when the 130s meet Hollywood here, and the 110s play at Burbank. The flea-weight eleven plays the Burbank 130 pounders, but they expect to give the heavier lads a hard fight.
The Hollywood team looks good and the Class B "babes" will have to get some punch in them if they expect to triumph in today's mix-
up. They were absolutely pep-less in the Franklin game, and if they hope to clean up the league
they will have to start getting the fighting punch into their games.

OPEN EXTENSION COURSES AT OXY

Portions of Regular Work in Various Departments Offered to Public

Through week-end and extension courses, Occidental college is now offering portions of the regular work of its various departments to teachers, professional and business people, and the general public.

All such courses will grant regular college credit, lower division, upper division and graduate work, according to the nature of the course and qualifications of applicant.

The work is fully accredited on the residence requirements for the Bachelor of Arts and Master of Arts degrees in Occidental college, as well as the various teachers' certificates, and is transferable to standard colleges and universities. Graduate credit is extended only to those students properly qualified for admission to the graduate school. Certain courses are open to persons of maturity or sufficient scholastic attainment who do not wish to enroll for credit.

The classes are scheduled to meet during the regular college semester for a minimum of sixteen hours per unit of credit. All Saturday courses begin on Saturday, October 13. Applicants may register at the office of the dean of the college on or before this date. Complete information regarding all classes, especially those meeting elsewhere than on the campus, may be obtained at the office of the dean, Garvanza 5140.

The courses offered are: Educational 111, "Educational Psychology," Crawley; Education 130, "Education and Citizenship," Sinclair; English 120, "Aims and Methods in Speech Education," Lindsey; English 145, "American Literature," Thompson; French 1, "Elementary French," Bell; French 2, "Intermediate French," Bell; Spanish 3, "Elementary Spanish," Bell; Spanish 2, "Intermediate Spanish," Bell; Botany 1, "Fundamentals of Botany," Smiley; History 5, "History of the Americas," Hardy; Political Science 101, "Constitution of U. S.," Bird; Philosophy 2, "Elementary Psychology," Crawley.

Hanson Gives Glendale 'Home Town' Oration

Her astounding growth staggers the imagination. The last Federal Census showed an increase of 394 per cent, stripping all other American cities in rapidity of growth. Her proud slogan—"The Fastest Growing City in America"—is therefore no idle boast. It was bestowed upon her by none other than Uncle Sam, and by the same token more often taken away. From 27,000 in 1910 to 13,000 in 1920, and now to 45,000 in 1923, an increase of 1600 per cent in thirteen years. And what will it be when I get back home! For she has only just begun! Unfathomable opportunities expand before her. Last year 76 miles of streets were paved, and 39 miles of new water mains laid. Building permits a million dollars a month. And along with it all, real estate values have kept pace, and for some have been made. What wonder investors flock to my city to share her prosperity!

But the call of my city is above the dollar mark. It lies not in her institutions and opportunities alone. It comes not from her economic and social charms, charming though they be. The call of my city lies in the cherished ideals of an uncommon citizenship, filled with an inspiring love for home and city that is akin to reverence. Upon this is my city built. In this she reveals and lives. From this her charms go out, eloquent appeals irresistibly drawing the sons of men in a never-ending stream, to serve and be beloved.

I bring you GLENDALE, "The Fastest Growing City in America."

A. L. Baird Hears of Coming Tourist Throng

Just because he's a 100 per cent Glendale Californian, A. L. Baird of the Valley Mortgage and Finance Company of 211 East Broadway is interested in the host of eastern people who are trekking across the continent to California in general and Glendale in particular.

Mr. Baird has a good friend, a prominent attorney back in Iowa, who is anticipating coming to Glendale within the next few months, and in his enthusiasm over Glendale he recently sent Mr. Baird a clipping from an Iowa paper stating that in a well-known auto camp ninety-nine tourist parties registered one night, and of that number ninety-eight were headed for Los Angeles vicinity.

With "Glendale, the fastest growing city in America," one of the biggest attractions in California, Mr. Baird is confident that a big per cent of these ninety-eight tourist parties will reach here.

California Healthful State for Children

Infant mortality in California decreases each year. In Los Angeles the death rate among infants has been reduced from an average of eighty out of every thousand who failed to survive, to seventy-one out of every thousand. The first figures were taken from records of the years from 1911 to 1915, while the second set of averages was obtained from statistics from 1916 to 1920.

Long Beach Officers Face Girls' Charges

LONG BEACH, Oct. 12.—The Long Beach police department was shaken by the arrest yesterday of three police officers on felony charges involving the mistreatment of young girls. Three others have been suspended from the force and a dozen are said to be concerned in an amazing series of grave charges.

Deputy District Attorney Joos has asked for a grand jury investigation of the police department. Chief Y. S. Yancy declared that he would push the case. Trips along dark, secluded roads and drinking parties are said to have been admitted by the officers held, who are Asa Kendall Cone, Chauncey H. Liston and George Brown.

Postoffice in Line for Mail Truck

The Glendale postoffice officials are expecting notice that a truck is to be assigned to the local office to handle the parcel post business. An inspector from the department is to be here within a few days and investigate the needs of Glendale in this respect, and on the report made by him it is expected that a favorable decision will be rendered immediately.

COLUMBUS DAY IS CELEBRATED HERE

Once each year this country celebrates "Columbus Day." As this day falls on the 12th of October, the occasion is being observed today in Glendale, as well as throughout the country, by all who happen to be in position to "take off" all the holidays.

As Mr. Columbus had a good deal to do with all of us being in this grand country, he has become famous and is particularly adored by school children and public officials.

The local banks remained closed throughout the day, and all city officials with the exception of the police force enjoyed a holiday. Local schools and the various societies of the city are giving suitable attention to the occasion.

Pageant Shown in High School Assembly

"Columbus Day" was observed today at the high school with four assemblies at which a pageant, arranged by the history department, was presented in four episodes, depicting events in the career of Columbus.

King Ferdinand and Queen Isabella were represented by William Rich and Charlotte Busby. Courtiers were John Burgess and Paul Cunningham, while Walter Runyon took the part of a page. Wesley Havens and Clifford Hepburn took the parts of citizens of Castile. Sailors were Elmer Muff, William Bradbury and Jack Finch, and Indians were Paul Cizek, Howard Elliott, Jack James, Miss Beth Humes, Miss Beatrice Sutton and Miss Elsie Forsythe. Richardson Jones played the part of a priest. The honor of playing the role of Columbus fell to Arden Gingers.

The program also included selections by the school orchestra, "La Cinquantaine" and "Under the Starry Banner," and two songs by the boys' glee club, "True to the Flag," by Berge, and "A Health to All Good Fellows," by Chaffee. Charles Henderson of the dramatic department recited Joaquin Miller's poem, "Sail On."

Stock Exchanges in Eastern Cities Close

CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—The Chicago board of trade and the Chicago stock exchange were closed today on account of Columbus day.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—All local markets were closed today because of Columbus day.

Revoked Licenses of Local Motor Camps

Willing to Improve
A desire to have the proposed new regulating ordinance passed in order that steps might be taken to comply with it was expressed by the operators of this camp. They explained that the forfeiture of their lease would mean that all buildings on the property erected by the tenants would immediately become the property of the owner of the real estate.

For this reason they asserted that they had been unwilling to make any more investment than necessary until they knew the exact security of their license. They stated that they were more than willing to make all suggested improvements under the proposed new ordinance.

Sale of Dresses at Hatz Store Saturday

Received and unpacked this Friday morning, a lot of 389 pretty dresses for women will be placed on sale Saturday morning at 9 o'clock, at Hatz's, 132 South Brand. This sale will be known as a "special purchase sale," and the management of the store announces that the dresses will be sold at wonderfully low prices.

The dresses range in price from $14.95 to $24.95. This is said to be one of the largest shipments of high-grade dresses ever received in Glendale. See their advertisement today.

ACCURACY IS FEATURE

Extreme accuracy is claimed for new shears for cutting fabric in which only the upper blade moves back of the lower one, being rested on a table to steady it.

PENN STATE PICNIC

Former residents of Pennsylvania, now living in Southern California, will hold a picnic reunion October 20, in Sycamore Grove park, Los Angeles. County registers will enable old neighbors to locate each other. There will be basket luncheons.

SKIRTS ANKLE LENGTH

LONDON, Oct. 12.—The new season's skirts are to be ankle length, while hats show no appreciable change. Coats will be tight-fitting. Many fashions are but a development of present designs.

OXY ELEVEN WILL TACKLE REDLANDS

Result of Saturday's Game to Have Vital Bearing on Conference Series

Tomorrow afternoon on Patterson Field, at 3 o'clock, the Occidental College varsity football team will meet the Redlands Bulldogs in the first conference game of the season. Both institutions have a reputation of playing clean, hard football and an interesting battle is at stake.

Last week the Bulldogs beat the Riverside College 33 to 0 and the Tigers squeaked San Diego State Teachers 33 to 7. Although Coach Cushman did not send his team up against stiff enough competition against the Riverside Junior College eleven, the Redlands boys are conceded to be holding their own. The powerful strength of Oxy is known all over and they are the heavy favorites, even with the breaks going against them. Last year Redlands finished at the bottom of the pile. Several of their letter men transferred to Oregon Aggies, leaving but one good player to build a team around. Thompson has been a star for three years at the Bulldogs' camp and he is to be the center of attraction on the visitors' team.

Pivotal Contest
Big things are expected of Spangler, Argue, Ridderhoff and Ebers as they are the backbone of the Orange and Black eleven. The result of tomorrow's engagement will decide the chances of Occidental to win the conference. They ended in second place last season and are stronger and faster than ever. Southern Branch is considered their most dangerous enemies.

The Oxy Frosh and Dinuba varsity will entertain the crowds in a preliminary encounter to begin at 1:30 o'clock. These two teams are about equal and a battle royal should take place.

The Caltek Frosh vs. Oxy Frosh football game, which was scheduled for Armistice Day, and was to be held at the site of the big battle between Occidental and Caltek varsity eleven Nov. 12, at the Rose Bowl, has been changed to Friday, November 9, and will be played on Patterson Field. This change has been made necessary because of a special program which the American legion is planning to put on preceding the annual Armistice Day grid struggle.

GLENDALE NEWS' GROWTH HEALTHY

Circulation Shows 80 Per Cent Increase Over Year Ago; Covers Field

Revealing the remarkable growth of The Glendale Evening News during the last year, comparative circulation figures show that this home town newspaper made an eighty-per-cent gain in the six summer months of 1923 over the same period in 1922, according to the United States post-office statement printed yesterday.

Whereas, one year ago the average circulation of The Glendale Evening News for the six months ending October 1 was only 3336, the circulation for the same period this year was 6001, an increase of 2665. This is all the more remarkable compared with the estimated population of Glendale.

Greater Than City
On October 1, 1923, this city boasted of 32,000 people. Now it has 45,000 population, according to the most reliable source of information. This is an increase of 40 per cent in one year's time, a very creditable record.

But The Glendale Evening News far surpasses this figure with a growth of eighty per cent in its circulation, for which two things are accountable. First, The Glendale Evening News has reached out, and now serves Eagle Rock, Montrose, La Crescenta, Tujunga, Sunland and Burbank with a daily delivery service, comprising three motor routes and ten carriers, in addition to its two score of local route boys.

Gains in Prestige
Second, the street sales of The Glendale Evening News have increased materially. A year ago last summer approximately 100 papers were being sold over the counter, at drug stores and by newsboys. Today that figure comes closer to 600—a very material gain in circulation as well as prestige.

In brief, the business men and advertisers will be interested to know that The Glendale Evening News is supplanting a Los Angeles newspaper in many homes. It is giving the merchant a larger territory than ever before from which to draw business. It has gained the esteem of purchasers of an evening newspaper on the streets.

All this because it is a complete newspaper, not wrapped around, inserted with or a part of any other paper. The Glendale Evening News' increase of eighty per cent in circulation stands unparalleled, we believe, in Southern California.

Diederich to Attend Fresno Convention

Vital Issues Will Be Discussed By Legion Heads at Convention

Leaders in the coming American Legion convention. Left to right, above, are: Commander Alvin Owsley, center; Dr. Kate Waller Barrett, president of the American Legion auxiliary, and, right, John Thomas Taylor, chairman legislative committee. Middle row: Robert H. Tyndall, national treasurer; George A. Withers, chairman orphans' home committee, and Miss Bess Wetherholt, national secretary auxiliary. Lower row: Rev. William P. O'Connor, national chaplain; Lemuel Bolles, national adjutant, and Joseph Sparks, chairman rehabilitation committee.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 12.—Hospitalization, rehabilitation, adjusted compensation and Americanization, declared by National Commander Owsley to be four pillars of the structure of the American Legion, are to be the prime consideration of delegates to the fifth annual convention at San Francisco, October 15 to 19.

On future development of these, will the thousand delegates direct their attention with a view to further accomplishments.

Effective steps for care and aid of disabled world war soldiers is one of the signal achievements of the legion. Its recognition in bodies for relief of the disabled has led the former soldiers' and sailors' organization to a position of authority. In rehabilitation as well, has the organization progressed.

National adjusted compensation measures have been carefully forwarded during the past year, until the demand has attained such an importance that passage is predicted in the house of representatives by a vote of at least eight to one.

Fought for Immigration Ban
Americanization has been steadfastly urged throughout the year by national and department officials of the organization. The massed strength of the organization has been used to bring about a five-year holiday of all immigration so that those aliens on U. S. shore might become assimilated. Extension of the legion's program for schooling such aliens in citizenship has been the aim of its 11,000 posts.

Realizing lack of unity in proper ethics for use of the flag, the legion set about settling on a

French Course Starts Saturday at High School

The class in beginning French, which was organized last Saturday morning under the University of California extension division, will begin work tomorrow, October 13, at 8:30 o'clock in Room 10 of Glendale Union High school.

This class will meet from 8:30 to 10:30 o'clock Saturday mornings, covering the required two hours of work per week in one lesson. Regular university credit will be given for this course on the satisfactory completion of six terms of work. Mrs. Ethel W. Bailey, teacher of French in the Glendale Union High school is the instructor of this course. She may be consulted by calling Glendale 777-4.

Professor Writes of Mexican Conditions

Dr. Robert Clelland, head of the department of history at Occidental college, who is on a year's leave of absence studying in Mexico, in conjunction with the newly established $100,000 Hispano-American chair at the institution, has just written to President R. D. Bird. The letter shows Dr. Clelland's views on Mexico.

The letter, in part, reads: "We arrived last night, after an interesting and delightful trip. The accommodations were about as comfortable as one ordinarily gets in the United States, except on the very best trains, and there were no untoward happenings of any kind."

"As for the country and the people, my impressions are too confused as yet to attempt to set them down on paper. I think my previous ideas will have to be revised only slightly, but the reality of the thing has become more firmly established. Wealth, abject poverty, beauty, filth and dirt beyond description, countless churches, vice and appalling ignorance, all seemed to be mixed together to make the country."

"One thing is sure, the chair, such as has been established at Occidental, has an unlimited field in which to work and a tremendous opportunity for doing good, if we can just find the right avenue of approach."

DEATH RATE LOW

DANCE FEATURES K. C. CELEBRATION

Local Council Will Observe Columbus Day in Fitting Manner Tonight

The first social event to be given by the Glendale council of the Knights of Columbus under the administration of Grand Knight Jesse E. Smith will take place tonight at the clubhouse, 330 East Lomita street, when Columbus Day will be celebrated with an address and a dance.

The members of the council will keep open house tonight, and everyone in Glendale is cordially invited to attend the celebration and enjoy the snappy music that will be the main feature of the dance, and to hear the patriotic address that will be delivered. The identity of the speaker is being kept as a surprise, but it is declared that one of the leading orators of the southland has been chosen.

While the official installation of the recently elected officers of the council is not scheduled until October 18, the organization automatically passes under their direction as from October 1, and Grand Knight-elect Jesse E. Smith is determined to make the first function of his term one to be remembered.

Will Dock Employees Attending Convention

Legionnaires employed by the city of Glendale will not be able to attend the national convention next week in San Francisco without losing their salaries. This necessity was acknowledged with regret last night by the City Council. The subject was brought up by Chalmers D. Day of 521 East Elk avenue, commander, and a committee from Post 127. Although a Legionnaire, City Attorney Ray L. Morrow was obliged to rule that the charter prohibits paying city employees while away from their regular duties except during their regular annual vacations.

Why bother about scrapping those ships at Philadelphia? Why not send them out to the Pacific coast for a cruise?

Owl Drug Co. Executives Tell Plans for Conduct Of New Glendale Store

The Owl Drug Company this morning made complete the details of the purchase of the drug business of A. G. Spohr, for many years conducted at the corner of Brand boulevard and Broadway. This location is conceded to be a pivotal corner of Glendale's business section, and the new owners say it is their intention to presently install a typical Owl store. It will continue to carry the well-known Rexall line, to which will be added the quite extensive line of Owl preparations and Remil-lor products from New York. It will also add other stocks, making the variety equal to its other city stores.

Mr. Spohr may be considered one of the pioneer druggists of Glendale, coming to this city about seven years ago, then a community of seven or eight thousand people. He indulged in a few reminiscences, recalling the astonishing growth of the population and business life in that short span. Aside from The Glendale Evening News, Mr. Spohr erected the second electric business sign in Glendale.

A rather unique circumstance is that Mr. Spohr sold his former store in Pasadena to the Owl Drug Company several years ago, and they now succeed him in Glendale. He will remain here as a resident.

Recognition for City

Recognition of Glendale's growth is strikingly illustrated by the Owl's entry here. They have the reputation of being expert judges of business possibilities, and, in addition, are always an important factor in civic development of cities where their stores are located.

C. A. Henry, president of the drug concern, and W. M. Berg, general manager, visited Glendale yesterday. Mr. Henry made the pertinent observation that the coming of the Owl Drug Store to Glendale, while a recognition of this community's progress, is merely an extension of its facilities and prices to thousands of patrons who have patronized its stores in the so-called metropolitan area only a few miles away.

The Owl established its first store in Los Angeles in 1894, then a city comparatively little larger than Glendale today, and has continued to expand with that city, as it now will with Glendale. Mr. Henry stated further that the Owl Drug Company, while a national institution, doing business in twenty-one cities and operating forty-six stores, is essentially a California product, with its home office and executives in this state, and has been identified with the business growth of California, and Southern California particularly, for thirty years.

Mr. Berg is shortly leaving for the east and will spend some time in the firm's Salt Lake, Denver, Chicago and New York offices. He stated yesterday that he would see that the Glendale store received special attention in the purchase of holiday merchandise.

The Glendale store is in charge of J. J. Luedke, assisted by Mr. Schirer. Mr. Luedke has been with the company for fifteen years, and opened and operated the San Diego store for many years. He has for some time resided in Glendale, and therefore is not a stranger here. Mr. Luedke stated it was the intention to retain the Spohr staff of employees, with such additions as will be needed to give Owl service.

FIREMEN, POLICE HOSTS TO COUNCIL

Benefit Association's Cash Reserve Totals $1836, Royle Announces

A smoker was enjoyed last night in the social hall of Fire Station No. 1 by local firemen and policemen.

The City Council arrived just in time for a midnight supper. Mayor Spencer Robinson was awarded a prize for his bald head which was the source of much amusement. As usual, he was the life of the party. Councilmen Sam Davis, W. A. Horn, Asa Hall and C. E. Kimlin all expressed their gratitude for the invitation. Other city officials who attended the "party" were City Clerk A. J. Van Wie, City Controller H. C. Saulsbury and Building Inspector H. C. Vandewater.

W. J. Royle, president of the Firemen and Policemen's Benefit association, reported that this mutual benefit association now has a cash balance on hand of $1836, despite the fact that it has disbursed $523 during the past year. City officials expressed their desire to co-operate in every way possible with the local home-protectors.

Parking Ordinance Adopted by Council

Glendale's new parking ordinance, which will go into effect in thirty days, was adopted last night by the City Council. Upon motion of Councilman C. E. Kimlin, the ordinance will become effective at 10 o'clock in the morning instead of an hour earlier as originally intended. He stated that this later hour is preferred by the local merchants.

Parking under this ordinance will be limited to one hour between the hours of 10 a. m. and 6 p. m. on Brand boulevard between California avenue and Colorado street and on Broadway between Central avenue and Louise street. Cars must be parked parallel to the curb except where the ordinance specifies that the parking must be diagonally.

THE GLENDALE

"The Gunfighter," starring William Farnum as the hero in the story of a California feud, closes this evening at the Glendale theatre. A large attendance was reported yesterday and Manager William A. Howe expects capacity houses today and this evening.

"The Gunfighter" offers Farnum every opportunity to display his remarkable abilities, and he is acclaimed a perfect choice for the lady about whom the story is woven.

The paternity of a girl coming into dispute starts the feud. Two young families, being intimate friends from the time of marriage, reside close together. A child is born to each. One dies. The parents, grieved, change the babies before death occurs and their friends think it is they who are bereaved. On his death-bed the erring father confesses to the other, who, however, disbelieves the story and refuses to relinquish the girl. The fight begins for possession. Many dramatic scenes follow and the two clans are virtually wiped out. The climax

THE GATEWAY

A picture full of thrills and intense moments is "Red Lights," a picturization of Edward Rose's mystery melodrama, "The Rear Car," which will be shown at the Gateway Theatre today and Saturday.

Comedy is sprinkled throughout the story, while romance and mystery predominate. A new kind of character is introduced in the person of a detective who, instead of tracking down criminals, seeks to prevent them from committing crimes.

The principal members of the cast are Alice Lake, Raymond Griffith, Marie Prevost and Lionel Belmore.

The story is complicated. It has to do with the daughter of a railway magnate who is kidnapped, the half-crazed and vengeful brother of the magnate being her tormentor. His motive is to leave the surviving feudists satisfied, when the opposing factions are brought together by the choice of the girl over whom the storm raged.

BURBANK

FALL FESTIVAL IS WELL ATTENDED

Women's Club Sponsors Big Event at New High School Building

The Burbank fall festival, under the auspices of the Women's club, opened with a great flourish yesterday afternoon when a playlet was given in the new high school building. Last night there was a banquet.

One of the most popular features of the bazaar proved to be the baby show. A number of babies were entered in the contest for the ribbons which will be awarded the two healthiest babies in Burbank.

The festival will close tomorrow night. A concert and dance will conclude its program. Many of Burbank's most prominent clubwomen have taken an active part in the direction of the entertainment. Among them are Mesdames Ellen Johnson, Cora Clark, D. Roy Pendell, Jack Anderson and T. B. Cummings.

Improving Streets
The board of trustees considered many important matters at its last meeting. Resolutions were passed to improve Fourth street, between Amherst drive and Easterly avenue, also portions of Cedar and Walnut avenues. A motion signed by G. A. Kimball and eight other residents to improve San Fernando boulevard to Front street was carried.

Cromwell and Henderson, the contractors who are at work on Eighth street, were granted a thirty-day extension on their contract. C. H. Cline complained to the board that the rock used in improving Eighth street was of inferior quality. R. R. Scott, street superintendent, declared, when called upon for his opinion that the rock in question would make good and durable roadway. No definite action was taken upon Mr. Cline's complaint.

Right-of-way alley privileges were granted by the trustees to William J. Adler, Esther H. Adler, W. H. Ruthmayer, George H. De Ferris, Gus Rudloff, F. J. Bradshaw, John T. Selby, Mrs. Eleanor E. Pettit and T. J. Richards.

City Clerk S. F. Webster has issued a call for pre-bids for piping for a new sewer system to be submitted by October 23. The entire city is to have new piping.

Warrants for city expenses, including the feeding of prisoners, supplies for the police, street and fire departments, were validated by the city clerk's department this week.

An appeal for assistance has been received by City Clerk Webster from the city of Vienna, Austria.

Permit G. & M. Railway to Oil Right of Way

The Glendale & Montrose railway was granted permission to grade and oil its right of way between Verdugo road and Sinclair avenue, instead of laying the regular paving, last night, by the City Council. City Engineer Ben F. Dupuy recommended that this action be permitted, in view of the company's improvements which are now under way. A petition requesting the paving was signed by S. A. Chase, J. P. Lukens, N. H. Stanley, George D. McMill, Mrs. C. H. Brainard, Mrs. Agnes Morgan, Mrs. Sadie Watson, A. B. Gillies, and Mrs. Louisa G. Wood.

MRS. KINCAID IS SPEAKER AT CLUB

Twentieth Century Women
Open Fall Season
Auspiciously

The Women's Twentieth Century Club opened its fall season yesterday afternoon with a particularly fine program, a large number of members and guests being present.

The luncheon speaker was Mrs. Kincaid of Los Angeles. The afternoon speaker was Mrs. Robert Burdette, California chairman of the National Federation of Women's Clubs. She spoke on "The National Outlook," pointing out that memberships all over the country were growing and women were taking part as never before in the civic and political life of the nation.

Miss Elsa Van Norman of San Francisco sang a group of songs in her fine contralto voice, adding much to the pleasure of the program. Her accompanist was Mrs. Constance Braasch.

Mrs. A. G. Kelly, new president of the Women's Twentieth Century Club, gave an address, in which she set the keynote of the progress for the year, stating that the club hopes to make this one of the richest seasons in its history.

School Activity

There has been an unusual amount of activity recently at the Central school, according to C. W. Preston, principal. J. Arneson, a member of the faculty, gave a travelogue, "Around the World," Tuesday which netted $24.80 for the school fund.

A well-known landscape gardener and agricultural expert, Rolland Shaber, is beautifying the school grounds. Mr. Shaber, in addition to arranging a parkway about the school, will also prepare a large flower and vegetable garden where pupils may learn the rudiments of farming.

Miss Georgia Shane, a noted pedagogist and psychologist, is making a survey of the school. The children are being given educational and mental tests and will be reclassified accordingly.

October 9 has been designated as visiting day for the teachers. They will visit other schools to study the methods employed in their work.

The P.-T. A. is busy preparing for its annual fall festival which will be given on October 19 and 20. A pageant representing the seasons will be a feature of the affair. There will also be a dance and banquet. The proceeds will be devoted to clearing off the indebtedness of the school cafeteria.

Slates All Meetings

E. G. Montgomery, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, announces that his organization has established a clearing house for meetings and parties in order to avoid planning an affair may send in the date to Mr. Montgomery and he will place it upon the calendar. It is expected that this will abolish a great deal of the confusion which has existed hitherto.

The Chamber of Commerce also announces that in the future its office will be open every day, from 8:30 to 5 o'clock, and on Saturday until noon.

Eagle Rock will observe Children's Week from October 21 to 28. An elaborate program under the direction of the Chamber of Commerce is being prepared.

F. R. Pargalis, secretary of the playground committee of the Chamber of Commerce, has had a conference with the Los Angeles playground commission in regard to securing a recreation spot for the children of Eagle Rock. A number of organizations have been urging such a place for some time. No location has yet been chosen.

Lauder's Nephew Here

Three new arrivals in Eagle Rock, who are attracting much attention, are Matt, James and Harry Lauder, double nephews of Sir Harry and Lady Lauder. The youths have just arrived from Australia, via Vancouver. They are guests at the home of their uncle, George T. Vallance. It is expected that their parents will join them there at Christmas.

Better Homes Week Spirit Is Well Carried Out Here

Fall and winter usher in the great holiday time of the year and anticipation of holiday happiness always brings a keener appreciation of home and plans for its beautification for the round of holiday festivities.

It is this pre-holiday spirit that has resulted in a nation wide "Better Homes Week" and while Glendale merchants are sharing in this great movement to better the American homes, they bring to Glendale the happy realization that there is no more ideal setting for the better home than California.

Here in the Southland, where the most modest dwelling can be developed into "The Home Beautiful," Californians should never ignore the spirit of "Better Homes Week."

The worn can always be replaced by something ultra and more desirable; the antique can be made more attractive by harmonious companion pieces and draperies; and the brand new home can be beautifully and practically fitted out in every detail.

Making home a better place in which to live is a well worthwhile goal of every true American, and this week, which is recognized in every state as "Better Homes Week" by merchants and home owners, it is well to look about your home to find the possibilities of enhancing the home hospitality for the holidays and for the new year that will follow.

POMONA'S ALUMNI WILL CELEBRATE

Will Observe Founders' Day
October 13 At Points All Over World

CLAREMONT, California, Oct. 12.—That fall day in October, thirty-six years ago, which marked the beginning of Pomona College, was a significant day for higher education, not only in Southern California, but in the entire educational world. Two years ago that day was set apart for the annual gathering of Pomona College Alumni as a "Founders' Day Around the World."

The first year of the celebration, 1921, six Alumni clubs joined in its observance. In 1922 this number had increased to nine, and the present year, when the celebration will be held on October 13th, because of the 14th falling on Sunday, sixteen alumni gatherings stretching from the Pacific to the Atlantic Coast will join in this "Universal Pomona Day."

Maintain Interest

The purpose of this Founders' Day celebration is to keep alive the interest of the 1511 alumni and to renew and maintain the interest of the 3300 ex-students in the present and future welfare of the College. The alumni are scattered over thirty-nine states, the Hawaiian Islands and eight foreign countries, and in all these outposts of Pomona, her loyal sons and daughters, in spirit, will be celebrating this Universal Day.

The college which thirty-six years ago began so humbly in a single frame building, with only nine acres of campus and seven teachers, with resources so small as to be negligible, and with only eleven in the first graduating class, has developed until today it comprises twenty buildings, one hundred and fifty acres of campus, a faculty of seventy, and graduated at its last commencement one hundred and forty-six students.

definite code governing display and ceremonies. On Flag Day, in the national capital, representatives of the most important patriotic, fraternal and educational organizations under direction of the legion gathered to work out rules for flag usage. This code will be formally adopted at the legion's annual convention.

The institution of "American Education Week" joined in by the nation's educators to bring about closer relationship with the schools, has become one of the important developments of legion work. President Coolidge has already approved of the plans for similar observance this year, in a proclamation just issued which calls on the nation's people to take cognizance of the movement.

To Consider Dependents
Another important consideration will be the proposal for care of dependents of World War veterans. This problem, expected to become equivalent to that of care of the disabled within a decade, has been studied by the legion in order to shoulder a portion of the load when the necessity arises. A committee, looking to the best methods for care of orphaned children, is to report to the convention.

The proposal of the legion for an international conference to limit air armament, commended by the majority of the nation's statesmen, educators and editors, will be another major question before the convention.

Military and naval affairs, those of aviation, preference of veterans in civil service position, the legion's policy on the invasion of the Ruhr, and dozens of other questions of more or less import to every former service man and woman of the nation are to come before the delegates.

Commander Travels Far

During the year Commander Owsley has done much to bring the legion to the attention of the nation. He has visited in every state of the union, Cuba, Europe and the Canal Zone, speaking not only to legion men and women, but to the business men of the nation. His travels covered 61,240 miles. His observance of the legion's place in the nation has been that a closer welding of the veterans in civic welfare movements, developing the community life as well as their own interests, has been effected. His reception by all classes has been a refutation of selfishness on the part of the legion.

headed by Dr. Kate Waller Barrett, will be in convention simultaneously with the legion. Affairs of the women's organization are progressing, particularly in achievements with co-operating bodies, such relations being fostered by national officers throughout the year.

"The Forty and Eight," where legionnaires give vent to their enthusiasm as in war-time days, will be in convention session. Support of the legion's policies, particularly those regarding care of dependents of World War veterans, will be considered. Ed J. Elvers, whose title is "Chief Chemin De Fer," or national president of the fun-making body, will preside at the sessions.

Nominate Candidates for Debating Post

Petitions are being circulated around Occidental College to select candidates for the position of debating manager, to fill the vacancy caused by White McGee's resignation, who is not returning to Oxy this year.

The candidates who were nominated and were voted on today in the associated student body meeting are: Edward Jones, Robert Stevenson, and Guy Wadsworth. The results of the election have not been announced yet, but each candidate is well qualified to fill the responsible place. Debating is a big factor at Occidental, and an extensive debating tour of the east is made each year.

HOBSON ASKING FOR $2000 HERE

Anti-Narcotic Crusader in Speech Before Glendale
Rotary Club

Richmond P. Hobson, representing the International Narcotic crusade, was the principal speaker at the Rotary club's weekly luncheon in the Egyptian Village cafe Thursday noon, his subject being "The Narcotic Evil." He told of the program of suppression of the vice his organization is engaged upon.

Captain Hobson asked the club to underwrite $1,000 of a $2,000 fund in Glendale for the furtherance of the work and, while it was explained by club members that it was their custom to act as individuals only, the rules were suspended and the matter was referred to the executive committee. During the course of his remarks Mr. Hobson stated that he had not dignified the attacks made upon the crusade by responding to them.

Plan Halloween Party
A halloween party for the Rotary Annes was discussed at the luncheon yesterday and a committee was appointed to work out plans for the affair.

A future event of considerable importance will be the reappearance here October 25 of Dr. James Whitcomb Brougner, who will deliver his lecture, "Keys and Keyholes," under the auspices of the Rotary club. This announcement was made by President George Kerr, who presided. The lecture will be delivered at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse auditorium. The Kiwanis and Exchange clubs have been invited to participate.

Visitors introduced at the luncheon today were J. C. Anderson, Bismarck, N. D.; O. A. Kjos, Seattle; Hugh Chaffer, Pasadena; John A. Bissinger, Lansing, Mich.; W. A. Innes, Los Angeles; Roth S. Keller, South Bend, Ind.; George L. Eastman, Los Angeles; Ed Twomey and R. H. Raphare.

FIRST CLEAN-UP DRIVE DESCRIBED

Tuesday Afternoon Club's Early Members Sponsored Plan in 1907

By OLD TIMER
Member of The Evening News Staff
The suggestion of J. F. Lilly, secretary and treasurer of the Valley Mortgage and Finance Company, 211 East Broadway, published recently in The Glendale Evening News, advocating a public exhibit where relics and pictures owned by Glendale people may be safely stored and exhibited for the benefit of old and young of Glendale, was a very good idea and no doubt there would be a ready response from those who have stored these articles in desk and drawer.

Illustrative of this is a picture now on exhibition in the window of The Glendale Evening News office, which Mrs. F. L. Church of 225 North Orange street has preserved for sixteen years. The picture is of special interest as it not only portrays a group of well-known club women but also tells the story of an early incident in the community life of Glendale.

In the years immediately following incorporation, before the city had been adjusted and funds placed at the disposal of the city trustees, there was no street department or provision made for cleaning the streets or caring for the vacant lots.

Urged Clean-up Day
Mrs. George E. Williams, a member of the civics committee of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, proposed a "clean-up day." The suggestion met with instant approval and preparations for this event were left in the hands of the civics committee.

On November 26, 1907, Mrs. J. C. Sherer, chairman of the civics committee, announced, December 7, 1907, as "Glendale Improvement Day" and further announced that dinner would be served on the vacant lot, corner of Fourth (Broadway) and Glendale avenue. Mrs. James Farrell was placed in charge of the commissary.

The response was most generous. The Glendale band contributed inspiring music. Every one made his own premises clean and all aided in caring for the vacant lots. Teams donated for the occasion hauled tons of rubbish away to be destroyed and every man able to handle a garden hose or cleaning tool was enlisted.

Bury Poppy Seeds
In those days every tourist expected to see, to quote the poet of the railway folder, "Children of the Sun, golden poppies, rich and yellow, all the landscape scattered o'er," and it was up to Glendale to meet this expectation, so an appropriation of $10 had been made by the club for poppy seeds, and during the morning fair distributors drove about the little city distributing poppy seeds to those who would agree to plant them and incidentally to offer encouragement to masculine toilers who exhibited blisters on hands unaccustomed to such strenuous work.

Then a little after noon the workers gathered at the gaily decorated booth, surrounded with long tables festooned with the graceful pepper boughs, where the only passport was a blister on the hand or a garden tool which looked as if it had been in use. Here, under the direction of Mrs. James Farrell, a bountiful dinner of home-baked beans, sandwiches, pie and coffee was served. Before the arrival of the workers the picture above mentioned was taken, showing the civics committee at the right and Mrs. Farrell and her committee at the front and left.

Possibly the resolution passed at the next meeting of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, in recognition of the support, liberally contributed, for the Glendale City Improvement Day, the object being the cleaning of the streets and sowing of flower seeds, hereby resolve that thanks be extended to Wilmot Parcher, president of our city trustees, to the city trustees, to Mr. E. D. Goode, president of the Board of Trade, to the Board of Trade and to G. H. Barager, E. W. Pack, C. Shaver, W. C. Fraley, F. G. Taylor, Noble Brothers, and to those furnishing teams, labor and carriages for the poppy sowers, to the members of the band, and to every housewife who so substantially responded to the call for home cooking for the dinner, and to all who in any way forwarded the grand success of our clean-up day, Saturday, December 7, 1907. And be it further resolved that this resolution be spread upon the minutes by the secretary of the Tuesday Afternoon Club and be published in each of the local papers, The Glendale Evening News and the Valley Independent, papers which so generously gave space and encouragement."

(Signed) Mrs. J. C. Sherer, Chairman;
Mrs. F. L. Church,
Mrs. J. N. Witham,
Mrs. Geo. E. Williams.

Those whose names are signed above, two of whom, with the chairman of the day are of those whom we "have loved long since and lost awhile," wrought better than they knew, and perhaps the community spirit fostered in this way was a large factor in Glendale's marvelous growth.

Belgian Beer Keeps Kirk in Middle of Road at Brussels

W. B. KIRK

Anticipation of seeing Brussels, Belgium, was voiced in the last letter from W. B. Kirk, and today The Glendale Evening News readers may read of his arrival there and of the tours he and his family took of the city. Mr. Kirk's letter is as follows:

"Brussels, Belgium, Sept. 12.—Our train from Paris brought us through a lot of towns whose names looked strangely familiar, as we came along, such as St. Quentin, Mabeuge, Mons and many others. We could see a few evidences of destruction in some of these, but almost obliterated by reconstruction and the mollifying effects of time and nature. The railroads seem to be in prime condition. We made the 200 miles in four and a half hours, fast time. The crops seem good, the weather fine.

"Like it is in all other cities we have visited, the hotels are crowded. It isn't a matter of choice, it is a question of 'what can we get?' We got into a hotel in a very central location near the Belge Nord station. Brussels is sometimes called a smaller edition of Paris, and I am inclined to think that statement not overdrawn. Its streets in the business and residential parts of the city are a good deal like those of Paris, but, of course, it lacks all that wonderful expanse of park and garden which lies along the Seine and which makes Paris so beautiful.

"The narrow, winding streets, flanked by a wider one here and there, are quite similar in all these cities. Little construction or reconstruction is going on except on the outskirts where I noticed nice, tasty, substantial flats going up. The materials are all brick or stone, no frame building in this part of the world.

Solid Masses of Buildings
"The streets converge into open squares every few blocks. I haven't seen many parks. Solid masses of three to five-story buildings extending long distances in every direction, show that it is a large town. I don't know just how large. You can't learn what the population of any European city is from the ordinary citizen. Some different from American cities, especially Americans, eh?

"Our hotel is reasonably quiet and comfortable. We spent Sunday as quietly as possible considering the noise and confusion of excursionists going and coming,

MOVIE HAY RICK STARTS SNEEZES

Xavius Zantippe's Sympathies Stirred by Picture; Fever Results

Professor Xavius Zantippe has not been his blithe and dapper self of late. In fact, he has been more or less under the weather. "Under four blankets and a crazy-quilt would be more like it!" chortled Mrs. Zantippe from the sick-room. "He has hay fever."

"I hab nod!" denied the learned professor. "I be simply bot a colb," and he thrashed about indignantly under his multitudinous coverings.

"It's time to take your medicine, my pet," cooed Mrs. Z. "The professor took it—but what he did with it is a matter between himself and his conscience."

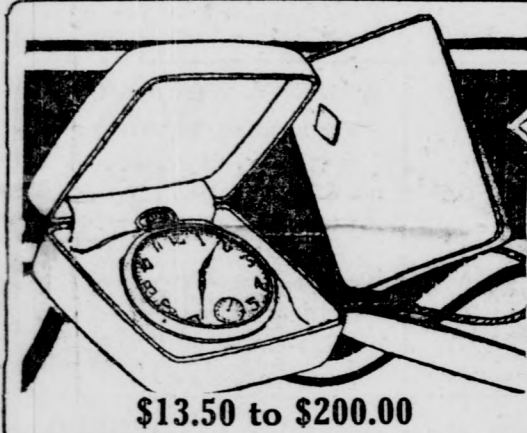

"We—we thought hay fever only came during the hay season," we objected.

"Oh, yes, to be sure," said Mrs. Z. "But the professor saw a hay-stack in a movie the other night—and it set him sneezing instantly."

"Hhr-rrrammm - mmmffftph!" echoed Professor Xavius Zantippe.

When the professor had laid in bed until he knew by all the new records the neighbors played on their phonographs, and had hatched a brood of murderous intentions on player pianos and radios, he rose and clad himself in his best. Mrs. Z. did likewise. So did Miss Xcellente and little Xandu.

They then called a taxi, with intent to spend the week-end with (Continued on page 3)

Diet and Health

FEEDING THE CHILD ITS SECOND YEAR
Table of Feeding From 15th to 18th Month

IMPORTANT! If your babies have not been having solid foods up to the fifteenth month, mothers, begin as I have directed for the sixth month babies. You can increase the foods a little faster, but be cautious.

Baby may and probably will refuse the solid foods. If so, withhold the milk and starve him to it. It won't hurt him. A twelve or even a twenty-four hour fast (with plenty of water) will usually convince them you mean business. Be prepared for a stormy time, and warn your neighbors so they won't have you up before the anti-cruelty society!

At the fifteenth month the baby who has been fed according to the directions I have been giving you here from week to week recently can begin three meals a day.

Breakfast
7:30 A. M.—Milk, eight ounces; no sugar. Dry, crisp bread and butter, one-half slice or so; increase gradually. Egg yolks two or three times a week or often.

Begin to add the white of the eggs—on the days meat is not given at the noon meal—with one teaspoonful and increase gradually. Cereal, one-half cup or more with some of the eight-ounce allowance of milk; no sugar.

9 A. M.—Juice of an orange or one-half grapefruit and one-half to one glass of water.

Dinner
11:30 to 12—Meat or vegetable broths with rice or bread (twenty-four hours old) in it, two or three times a week. Baby may now have thickened milk ("cream") soups also. Crisp bread and butter, one-half slice or so. Scraped beef, one to two level tablespoons; or cottage cheese, two to three level tablespoons; or nut butter, one-half to one level tablespoons.

Diced Fruit with Mock Whipped Cream

"Potato Muffins: (Some time ago one of your Readers requested this recipe.) Scald one and one-half cups of sweet milk, cool it to the lukewarm stage, then dissolve in it one cake of compressed yeast. Now cream together one-half cup of butter, one-half cup of granulated sugar and one teaspoon of salt; beat this mixture for two minutes, then beat into it one and one-half cups of mashed potatoes. Dilute with the milk (in which you dissolved the yeast-cake) and add five cups of bread flour. This will make a stiff dough. Knead it well, on a floured board, then put back in the bowl, cover, and let rise till light. Shape it into biscuits, place these in a pan close together, and again let stand to rise slowly (it will take half an hour longer than for plain rolls, and they must not be too warm during this second rising). When double in bulk, bake in a moderate oven for 30 minutes. Here is another good muffin recipe:

"Squash Muffins: These are made exactly like the Potato Muffins just given, except that one and one-half cups of boiled, mashed squash is used instead of the same amount of mashed potatoes. Mrs. C. M."

Transparent Pie: (Recently requested by another Reader.) Beat one-half cup of butter and one cup of sugar to a cream, add three egg-yolks, and mix well; add one-half cup of sweet milk and one teaspoon of vanilla extract. Turn the mixture into two pastry-lined pans. (No top crust.) Beat the three egg-whites stiff with three teaspoons of sugar and spread this meringue over the two pies; return the pans to the oven, and brown slightly. Here is another

PICTORIAL REVIEW 1799

THE COAT FROCK REIGNS
With a charm typically Parisian, this coat frock expresses itself in dark blue rep, selecting novelty buttons for its chief decorations. The fronts of the dress are crossed and closed at the left side. Also, they are cut in one with the collar, which is rolled to form revers. The fullness at the sides and back is held in with a narrow belt of self-material. Medium size requires 3 1/2 yards 54-inch material. Pictorial Review Coat Dress No. 1799. Sizes, 34 to 50 inches bust. Price, 45 cents.

Heart and Home Problems

By MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am twenty-four years old and engaged to a man six years my senior. We were to be married the first of October and so I have been getting ready for my wedding. My guests have been invited and my wedding dress is all ready.

I don't know what has happened to the man I am to marry. The last time he came to see me was a week ago and he said nothing to make me think we could not be married at this time. He seemed to love me just as ever. But two days later I had a letter from him telling me he was going away and not to expect to see him for a long time. He said sometime he would return and we could be married, but he was not ready to do so yet.

I don't know what to do. It is killing me to think of telling the truth to my guests. I can't understand what is the matter. When he comes back do you think I ought to forgive him and marry him at that time? What can I tell people? My father is furious and says he is glad it all happened and he would never consent to my marrying such a man. Please help me.

HEART-BROKEN.
I agree with your father that you were fortunate to learn the truth about your fiancé before you were married to him. You may be sure that a man who would run off that way without explanation would have done the same thing sooner or later any way and you had little to hope for from him.

Simply tell people that your wedding is called off and you will not be married. Make no explanations and if rude people question you, tell them it is a matter you do not care to discuss.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am nineteen years old and have been going with a young man for over a year. He said he loved me and asked me to marry him. I loved him too and so we became engaged at Christmas time last year. He gave me a ring for my Christmas present and for several months we were very happy. Then it didn't seem to me that he cared as much for me as he had at first. He made excuses not to come so often and said he had to work. When I would ask him if he loved me he always said he did, but it seemed to me actions spoke louder than words.

Now I know he no longer loves me, but I am afraid to lose him and so I let him come when he wants to, which is rarely. Although we live in the same town I only see him about once in two weeks. I don't know why he keeps on coming and doesn't tell me outright that he would like to have me release him.

What do you think I ought to do? I love him so much it breaks my heart to give him up. BROKEN-HEARTED.
If the young man no longer loves you, surely you do not want to remain betrothed to him. Tell him you realize that it is a farce to prolong the engagement and you want to release him. It seems hard to think of giving him up, but when you have taken the step you will be far happier. Try not to be hopeless over the matter because you are very young and love will come to you again.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: My fingers stain very easily. Now that I have been doing so much canning I am very much troubled with the conditions of my hands. Please tell me what to use to whiten my fingers after they are colored with fruit stains.

HOUSEWIFE.
Equal parts of lemon juice and peroxide of hydrogen make an excellent stain remover for the fingers. The combination is better than either bleach alone.

BEAUTY CHATS

UNDENIABLY, a long chin adds a charm to the face, and especially to the profile. It gives a long smooth line running back to the throat, which would redeem even very mediocre features.

The worst of it is that one is born with a long chin, or without it, and very little can be done to change a receding chin into something more shapely. Experts can mould the plastic features of the baby, but where to find the experts, and how to pay them the great fees such experts can command, is a problem that most mothers find too much for them. Tiny babies are almost chinless anyway, not much can be told about their chin for the first year.

Children with adenoids have had chins and bad profiles, because they breathe improperly from half opened mouths. Have the adenoids removed and the child's face will improve almost beyond recognition, so will his health and intelligence if the adenoids have been bad. Don't give a baby rubber "comforters" (is that the name?) and you reduce enormously the chance of adenoids.

Some chin exercise will help even grown ups. First, learn how to carry your head and how to hold your chin. That's half the problem solved, and sometimes the whole problem, for few girls hold their chins properly. Put your shoulders back and your chest high and you'll find your chin quite automatically taking the best position, raised, but not awkwardly so. Once a day, practice bending the head back as much as possible with the mouth open, closing the mouth with the head still back. This pulls and strengthens the muscles, gives a longer and firmer chin line. Ice rubs are for double and flabby chins.

Bobbie:—A girl of 15 years can count upon wearing her hair bobbed for many years to come, unless it goes out of style; and there are no indications of that happening at present.

The Fat One:—If you change from bread made of white flour to that of whole wheat, or omit a certain amount of starch in vegetable or cereals, you will easily lose the extra four pounds in a few weeks.

Anxious:—There is always danger of growing hair on the face when you use animal fats as a massage. The treatment you mention acts much like a massage.

and you will get the same results if you massage the scalp regularly, although it will take a longer time.

Tomorrow:—Face Creams.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So, if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

WHO'S WHO IN THE DAY'S NEWS

FREDERICK G. GUEST
Frederick G. Guest, minister in charge of the British air department when David Lloyd George was premier and who is the only minister of the British crown to own an estate in the United States, has come to this country for a visit. His wife is with him. She is the former Amy Phipps, the daughter of Henry Phipps of New York.

A younger brother of Lord Wimborne, Major Freddie Guest, had a somewhat eventful career. He has been everywhere. Very rich, through his multi-millionaire father, despite his having been a younger son, he went out to South Africa some years before the Boer war and was subsequently knighted by the king at the time of the Jameson raid. Afterward he joined Kitchener, and as an officer of the camel corps took part in the reconquest of the Sudan and in the battle and capture of Khartum.

He was captain of the first life guards in the Boer war of a score of years ago, and in the subsequent times of peace did some soldiering out in India. He spent much of his time in exploring the interior of Africa and of Asia, and also prospecting in Alaska. From 1912 to 1914 he was a member of King George's household as its treasurer, but went to the great war as the staff officer of the British generalissimo, Lord French, winning the distinguished service order, the legion of honor and a military commandership of the order of the British empire.

After a brief spell at home during the war, engaged in organizing the national service department, he felt the need of seeing some more fighting, and accordingly joined Gen. Jan Smuts in the arduous East African campaign which ended in the conquest of all Germany's vast territory in that portion of the dark continent.

Freddie Guest's American wife shares his popularity and is one of the most successful hostesses in London, where she owns the beautiful house which the late Alfred Beit, the South African diamond multi-millionaire, built for himself, regardless of expense, in Park Lane. When the war broke out she gave up this house to the British government for use as a military hospital for wounded officers and men, and in 1917, on the United States coming into the war, and with the consent of the prime minister, turned it over to the American military authorities for a similar purpose. She organized and equipped the important Wounded Allies hospital at Malo-les-Bains in France in 1914 for the use of French and English wounded.

Belgian Beer Keeps Kirk in Middle of Road

cality they are allowed to sit in the sidewalks and streets with their tables and chairs. Three doors from our entrance a large screen cuts off the sidewalk altogether and you have to get out into the street to get by.

"On the square" the drinkers are not only clear across the wide sidewalk but chairs and benches extend out into the street, so that there is barely space to get on the street cars! It is unbelievable. This morning I noticed a beer wagon unloading immense kegs, reminding me of by-gone days in old St. Joel.

Cheap Car Fare
"Brussels seems to have a good street car system and fares are very low. I rode out to the end of a line and back, took about an hour and a half, for twenty-five cents, each way, total about two and a half cents in U. S. figures. While Brussels is practically a French city, Belgium, as you know, recognizes the two official languages, French and Flemish. Street signs and things of that sort, appear in both languages.

"I am told that Belgium is making rapid recovery in rebuilding and industry but have no means of verifying the figures. From appearances everybody who works is busy, and there is no need for undue sympathy. I know there must be plenty of cripples, but they must be busy, I haven't seen one.

"The soldiery is in evidence, all seeming to be quite young, boys coming to maturity since the war closed. They seem to be a light-hearted bunch. Most French and Belgians like an hirsute adornment, so their men all wear moustaches or beards, the smooth-shaven man is the exception.

Pushed for Ready Money
"Just why the monetary exchange should be so much against Belgium is hard for me to understand. I suppose its value is gauged by the total amount of obligation measured by the amount of quick assets, not by total assets. Surely, with such a country and such a people, Belgium is solvent, but she is pushed for ready money. Like France, she is figuring on the reparation she is going to receive from Germany to liquidate her foreign indebtedness but, judging by the low price of her franc the financial world doesn't put much faith in that.

"The drive around Brussels, out of the downtown business district, shows it to be a beautiful city. While the parks are not numerous, they are extremely tasteful. The contrast between its downtown and older sections and the showy part of the city is very great.

"Our chauffeur could scarcely speak English, but he surely knew the interesting places to take us to. The Palace is stately and fine, the Hotel de Ville or City Hall contains many statues and paintings of old Brussels; the Wiertz Museum is an old private gallery having only twenty-five or thirty pictures but some of them immense, by old Flemish masters and shouldn't be missed, the two largest, 'The Triumph of Christ' and 'The Rebellion in Heaven,' are I should say, very unique conceptions, wonderfully executed; the place of execution of Edith Cavell, Gabrielle Petit and other patriots was seen, also the statue to the latter; the Arc de Triomphe compares very favorably with that in Paris; the tall monument beneath which the unknown soldier, flanked on either side by huge bronze statuary is a fitting memorial.

From Palace to Lace Factory
"The grandest building in the city, however, is the Palais de Justice, one of the largest and most beautiful in Europe, stated to have cost 60,000,000 francs and to have taken seventeen years to erect.

"Finally we were taken to the royal lace factory, where we saw the process of making the celebrated Brussels lace and couldn't get away without purchasing a small piece of it.

"We have spent three pleasant days here and will go to Ostend and Bruges for a couple of days, then to Holland for the balance of the week. Our lack of knowledge of the language is the only drawback. Very few people have any knowledge of English and we have less of French. Any language which pronounces Rheims 'Hros' is too much for me.

Another letter from Mr. Kirk will appear in an early edition of the Glendale Evening News.

NOTICE OF SALE OF REAL ESTATE UNDER EXECUTION

Sheriff's Sale—No. B-26801

J. R. M. GORDON, Plaintiff vs. TUNJUNGA WATER & POWER CO., a Corporation, Defendant.

By virtue of an execution issued out of the Superior Court of the County of Los Angeles, State of California, wherein J. R. M. Gordon, plaintiff, and Tunjunga Water & Power Company, a corporation, defendant, upon a judgment rendered the 26th day of April, A. D. 1916, for the sum of Two Thousand Five Hundred Eighty-eight and 10/100 ($2,588.53) Dollars lawful money of the United States, besides costs and interest, I have levied upon all the right, title and interest of said defendant Tunjunga Water & Power Company, a corporation, of, in and to the following described real estate, situated in the County of Los Angeles, State of California, and bounded and described as follows:

PARCEL NO. 1.—Lot five (5), of Section six (6), township two (2), north range thirteen (13) west, S. B. M., in the County of Los Angeles, State of California, containing forty (40) acres, more or less.

PARCEL NO. 2.—All of lot one (1) of the West portion of the Tunjunga Ranch, as per map thereof recorded in book 29, pages 51 and 52, Miscellaneous Records Los Angeles County, saving and excepting from said lot one (1) that portion thereof heretofore conveyed by the Tunjunga Water & Power Company to Henry S. Van Dyke, by deed recorded in book 4009, page 281 of deeds, Los Angeles County records.

PARCEL NO. 3.—All of that certain piece or parcel of land situated in the County of Los Angeles, State of California, (being twenty-four (24) acres more or less) and more particularly bounded and described in that certain deed from Charles E. Rancier to Tunjunga Water & Power Company, recorded in book 2064, page 234 of deeds, Los Angeles County records, to which said deed and record thereof reference is hereby made and had for further and more particular description.

PARCEL NO. 4.—All property rights, water, appurtenances and franchises of every nature, kind and character whatsoever, owned, operated or controlled by the said Tunjunga Water & Power Company in and to water, water rights, dams, dam sites, reservoirs and other locations, rights of way and other easements, in the Angeles National Forest reserve, granted by or otherwise obtained from the Department of the Interior of the United States, or other source, including ten (10) dam and reservoir locations, rights of way for pipes and pipe lines, and all improvements made or done by the said Tunjunga Water & Power Company and its grantors.

PARCEL NO. 5.—All water contracts covering one thousand six hundred and sixty-six (1666) acres of irrigable land in Hensen Heights Tract and Tract No. 102, in the County of Los Angeles, State of California, as shown on map book 13, at pages 142 and 143 and page 57, respectively.

PARCEL NO. 6.—All ditches, flumes, conduits, aqueducts, pipes, pipe lines and distributing systems, same being two and one-eighth (2 1/8) miles of two inch redwood pipe twenty-four (24) inch by twenty-four (24) inches in diameter, reinforced with steel bands, and ten (10) miles of steel pipe and fittings for delivery of water, located in said Hensen Heights Tract, Tract No. 102, and west portion of Tunjunga Ranch, in Los Angeles County, State of California.

PARCEL NO. 7.—Rights of way for two (2) pipe lines over property known as the Alice Ranch in Monte Vista Tract, and rights of way over land of J. J. Johnson and wife, F. A. Johnson and wife, and C. B. Johnson, as more fully appears from description in book 1107, page 88 of Deeds, Los Angeles County records.

PARCEL NO. 8.—Rights of way or other easements necessary or convenient to the proper construction and maintenance of piping systems over and across all lands in lots 1 to 85, both inclusive, in said Hensen Heights Tract and lots 1 to 88, both inclusive, in said Tract No. 102, County of Los Angeles, State of California.

PARCEL NO. 9.—Rights of way for pipes, power and conduit lines, and for railways over and across lots 1, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, West Portion of Tunjunga Ranch as per map thereof recorded in book 29, pages 51 and 52, Los Angeles County records.

PARCEL NO. 10.—All riparian rights, water appurtenances and water rights of every description in or upon or pertaining to the Big Tunjunga Creek and its tributaries, made or acquired by said Tunjunga Water & Power Company.

PARCEL NO. 11.—All that property described in a certain deed from Samuel Merrill, et al, to the Hamilton Irrigation Company, recorded in book 1026, page 113 of deeds, Los Angeles County records. To said deed and record thereof reference is hereby made and had for a further and more particular description.

Saving and excepting from the above described property that property described as follows, to-wit:

PARCEL A.—That portion of lot

1 of the West portion of Tunjunga Ranch, County of Los Angeles, State of California, as per map recorded in book 29, pages 51 and 52, Miscellaneous records of said County, described as follows: Commencing at the northeast corner of lot one (1), thence south 57 degrees, west 77 chains to an angle in the northerly line of said lot marked "T" on said map, thence southerly ten (10) chains measured along a direct line drawn from said angle marked "T" to the northeast corner of lot twenty-six (26) as shown on said map, thence northerly seventy-four and eighty-four one hundredths (74.84) chains, more or less, to a point in the easterly line of lot one (1) distant south 11 degrees, 45' E. twenty (20) chains from the point of beginning, thence north 11 degrees 45' twenty (20) chains to the place of beginning, containing 60 acres, more or less.

PARCEL B.—Also lot ten (10), block four (4) in the village of Monte Vista, County of Los Angeles, State of California, as per map recorded in book 8, page 24 Miscellaneous records of said County.

Provided, however, that the foregoing reservations of Parcel A, is subject to all water rights and rights of way hereinbefore described, which water rights and rights of way are not reserved or excepted.

PUBLIC NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, That I will, on Monday, the 29th day of October, A. D. 1923, at 12 o'clock M. of that day, in front of Court House door of the County of Los Angeles, Broadway entrance, sell at public auction, for lawful money of the United States, all the right, title, claim and interest of said defendant Tunjunga Water & Power Company, a corporation, of, in and to the above described property, or so much thereof as may be necessary to raise sufficient to satisfy said judgment, with interest and costs of way to the highest and best bidder.

Dated this 4th day of October, 1923.

WM. I. TRAEGER, Sheriff of Los Angeles County. By W. F. Osterholt, Deputy Sheriff. James Donovan, Plaintiff's Attorney. Oct. 5-12-19-26

Two additional teachers have been added to the faculty of Glendale Union High school.

Miss Eleanor Thayer of Eagle Rock has been added to the language department. She will teach Latin and will coach students in Latin, French and Spanish. Miss Thayer has done graduate work at Columbia University and the University of California. She was formerly connected with the faculty of Long Beach Polytechnic High school.

John H. Davies of Los Angeles has been employed to organize and direct this year's band. He is now directing a R. O. T. C. band at Jefferson High school, Los Angeles, and will come to the local high school for two periods each

Fears Trouble Unless Govt. Helps Farmers

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 12.—Secretary of Agriculture Henry C. Wallace, attending the International farm congress here, said he feared "widespread, serious trouble" would result unless some relief were offered the farmer by the government.

"If the present disparity between the prices of agricultural products and of other necessities continues," the secretary warned, "I fear widespread, serious trouble will result—but not a revolution."

afternoon. He is familiar with a number of different instruments and is reported to be not only an excellent musician but a capable leader as well.

TODAY—Think United States Land of Goats; Young Baldwin a Radical; "Hands Across the Sea."

By DAVID M. CHURCH
For International News Service

LONDON, Oct. 12.—England is beginning to imagine the United States as a land of goats. It's all because of the weird stories printed here about the sudden craze of Americans for rejuvenation through goat glands.

Tens of thousands of Americans can boast of goat glands sewn up in their anatomy, says Sir Edward Hulton's "Empire News"—and serious-minded English people believe the "Empire News."

"Goat farms are springing up with mushroom rapidity," continues this paper, "from Maine to Texas and from Narragansett to Oregon. Their growth so far exceeds the monkey farms of France that if Americans are not turned into goats before the French are turned into monkeys it will not be the fault of Dr. Brinkley, of Kansas, who has set the pace even for Voronoff."

Young Oliver Baldwin, son of Britain's Prime Minister, would be a trial to almost any other father but Stanley Baldwin. Young Baldwin is a laborer, a progressive and a lover of adventure, and tells the world his views while his father treads the path of staid old British conservatism.

The elder Baldwin is not greatly worried by his young son's views; in fact he seems to rather good-naturedly admire the young man's independence.

"On the whole," the prime minister thinks the boy gets a better press than I do," he declined, however, to discuss his son's political views, except to say that it would be time enough to do that when they led from domestic discussion very much further along the road to civil war. The prime minister seems to be a wise father, but around the clubs where old diehards gather before the fire there are serious discussions about "this young Baldwin chap" and many an old-timer who still think in Victorian terms is willing to predict that the boy will never grow up to be the man his father is.

Americans abroad are inclined to be a little skeptical of organizations, which seek to promote international friendly feeling. Too often there is a "nigger in the woodpile" of these "hands across the sea" movements. There is, however, one such organization which blooms almost unseen and unknown in England. It is the Reunion of British war missions. This organization is composed of men who went to the United States on war missions and came home convinced that England should know more about the good side of America. Without any hippo-ramus, and without any attempt at self-glorification, they have set to work. The organization is quietly conducting lecture courses in public schools, telling the English children about American life and distributing American books to English readers. Captain O. P. Beaman, secretary of the organization, is now in America to further the movement. The work this organization is doing, in a quiet and unobtrusive way, should set an excellent example to some of the other organizations which loudly proclaim they are working for Anglo-American amity and do the most of their work in moments when their flag-waving is done under the enthusiasm of good dinners, much wine and liquors.

Somerset Maugham has given the London tongue an excellent work-out by the production of his new play, "Our Brothers," which has also been produced in New York.

Maugham has made the play a preachment against American climbers in English society, and he has revived discussions which flourished in Victorian days as to whether or not Americans are a superior race. The old-timers are quite ready to blame Americans for cocktail drinking, for cigarette smoking and extravagance and gayety in general. The more modern, however, are willing to admit that their cousins from across the Atlantic have had an enervating effect upon London society, and while they are inclined to believe that no American is as good as any Englishman, still they admit "had chaps after all, you know, ah, ah."

Marching with American Legion

Mrs. Robert L. McCormick of Tacoma, Wash., has contributed $100,000 to establish an American Legion chair of history and patriotism at Pacific university, Forest Grove, Ore. The generous gift will provide for the construction of a $60,000 building and a $50,000 endowment fund.

The Legion's chair of history and patriotism was conceived as a means to counteract the spread of Bolshevism and radicalism following the World War. The court was established to train instructors in citizenship and patriotism. The field work of the institution has done much to oppose the activities of I. W. W. leaders and other reds attempting to foment sedition in the northwest.

The course of study includes a laboratory course of investigation of social, industrial and economic conditions of unrest, aside from classroom instruction and lectures on the essentials of patriotism. It follows the rise and fall of nations and the causes of their decay and disintegration.

Legion men who investigate industrial trouble have often been successful in settling disputes. It is the investigator's role to act as a conciliator. The success of the legionnaires is attested by one employer who recently said: "As the American Legion men of my force go, so the others will go."

Wisconsin members of the American Legion will spend $25,000 to send musical organizations to participate in the band and drum corps contest to be held at the legion's national convention in San Francisco, October 15-19. Bands representing the Beaver Dam and Waukesha posts and the Racine drum and bugle corps will attend. More than 300 Wisconsin legionnaires are expected to go to the convention.

The American Legion post at Goodland, Kan., has done much good, but two years later moved to New York city. His election as general counsel of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe followed, and in 1908 he became chairman of the executive committee of the board of directors of that railroad company. He continued his practice, however, until his election as chairman of the board of directors in September, 1916. His first connection with the United States railroad administration was as assistant to the director.

Mrs. Robert L. McCormick

American Legion national commander. "You may be sure that my people will respond to it, not only with gratitude but with a greater courage in undertaking the work of reconstruction."

Tombstones, bearing name, rank, company and division, are obtainable by heirs of deceased soldiers upon application to the quartermaster general of the army, who will supply blanks upon request, according to information obtained by the American Legion.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

— BY HOWARD R. GARIS —

UNCLE WIGGILY AND RUNAWAY BUNTY

"Goodness me sakes alive!" sighed Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy one day, as Uncle Wiggily sat reading the Cabbage Leaf Gazette newspaper in the hollow stump bungalow. "I don't know what I'm going to do with her."

"What's the trouble now?" asked the rabbit gentleman, twinking his pink nose because a little fly wanted to sit on it and get warm.

"It's Baby Bunty," answered the muskrat lady housekeeper. "She has run away again!"

"Run away again?" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily. "Do you mean to say she has run away before?"

"Oh, yes, many times," replied Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy. "I didn't tell you about it, for I didn't want you to worry, but Baby Bunty is getting to be a regular runaway and I can't seem to stop her."

"Hum!" said Uncle Wiggily. And then, once again, he said: "Hum!"

That meant he was thinking very hard.

"I shall have to do something to teach Baby Bunty not to run away so much," he said, after a while.

"I wish you would," sighed Nurse Jane. Then she started out to hunt the lost, runaway Baby Bunty. And where do you think she was found?

Away off under the mulberry bush making mud pies with Kitty Kat, the pussy girl.

"Baby Bunty, why do you run away so much?" asked Nurse Jane sadly as she led the little rabbit girl back to the hollow stump bungalow.

"I don't know—just for fun, I guess," laughed Baby Bunty.

"Well, it isn't any laughing matter for me," said Nurse Jane. "You must not run away again, Bunty."

"No'm, I won't," said Baby Bunty. But as she always said this and nearly always ran away again next day, you couldn't put much trust in her.

Baby Bunty was a queer little rabbit girl. She was an orphan, like "Orphant Annie," and she used to live, in turn, at the homes of the other animals where she "washed an' wiped the dishes an' put th' cups away."

Baby Bunty was very cute, sweet and lovable, but she had this one fault—she would run away. No matter at whose home she was staying—whether at Uncle Wiggily's bungalow or at the cave of Mr. Whitewash, the jolly polar bear, Baby Bunty would run away. "I must do something to cure her," thought Uncle Wiggily when Nurse Jane brought the little tyke home after her last trip. "I must teach Bunty a lesson."

Uncle Wiggily thought about it for a long time and then made up a plan, telling no one about it. "I'll dig a hole at the end of the garden," said the rabbit gentleman to himself, "for it is there that Bunty most often runs to when she runs away. And I'll hide myself in the hole. Then, when Bunty comes along, running away as she is sure to do sooner or later, I'll call 'Boo!' at her."

"When I cry 'Boo!' from the hole where I am hidden this will make Bunty stop and think. And if she stops and thinks she won't run away. It's a good plan, I'm sure."

So Uncle Wiggily dug a deep hole in the soft dirt at the end of his garden, and in the hole he hid himself the next day. There he waited for Baby Bunty to come so he might cry "Boo!" at her. But the funny part of it is that after he had crawled into the hole Uncle Wiggily fell asleep. He meant to stay awake, but it was so warm and cozy in the hole that he fell asleep.

Soon after Uncle Wiggily had fallen asleep in the hole, Baby Bunty started to run away again. She slipped softly off the front porch and tiptoed down the garden. At the lower end she saw a hole.

"Oh! I wonder what's in the hole?" thought Baby Bunty. "I'll poke a big stick down the hole and find out." So Baby Bunty poked a big stick down in the hole. She poked the stick and she twisted

the stick and she jabbed the stick and then, all of a sudden, out of the hole popped the Fuzzy Fox.

"Hi Y!" yipped the Fox. "What do you mean by poking, jabbing and twisting me with a stick? I hid in the hole to get Uncle Wiggily, and you poked me, Baby Bunty! Oh, how you poked me right in the ribs! And you jabbed me on my nose!"

"I'm glad I did!" laughed Baby Bunty, and when she shook her big stick at the Fox, away he ran. "Ho! Ho!" laughed Baby Bunty, and when she laughed Uncle Wiggily, in his hole, awakened. "Boo! Boo!" cried the bunny rabbit gentleman, but Bunty only laughed harder and said: "Poo! You can't scare me! I wasn't scared of the Fox, so I'm not scared of you, Uncle Wiggily! Ho! Ho!"

And Uncle Wiggily was very much surprised when he heard what had happened while he was asleep. But Baby Bunty was very good—she didn't run away any more that week. And Nurse Jane said the little rabbit girl was very clever to poke and jab the Fox with her stick.

Now if the pussy cat doesn't try to tickle the goldfish with her tail I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily trimming the hedge. (Copyright, 1923, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate)

The beautiful new house of J. McMillan, which is being built in the foothills of North Glendale, is assuming extensive proportions and will be a fine house when finished. Mr. Priest of Central avenue, North Glendale, is the architect.

Mrs. Luella M. Bullis, matron of Glen Eyrie chapter, Eastern Star, will represent her lodge at the forty-first convention of the grand chapter of the state at Santa Cruz.

Little Miss Keleher, weight eight pounds, arrived in Glendale at 8:30 o'clock Sunday morning and hereafter will be at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Keleher, 228 North Louise street.

The Priscilla club, which met at the attractive home of Mrs. H. W. Varick, 1447 West Third street, yesterday afternoon, was delightfully entertained.

POEMS That LIVE

BONNY LESLEY

O saw ye bonny Lesley
As she gazed o'er the border?
She's gone, like Alexander,
To spread her conquests far-ther.

To see her is to love her,
And love but her forever;
For Nature made her what she is,
And ne'er made sic anither!

Thou art a queen, Fair Lesley,
Thy subjects we, before thee;
Thou art divine, Fair Lesley,
The hearts of men adore thee.

The Deil he could na scaith thee,
Or aught that wad belang thee;
He'd laugh to thy bonny face,
And say, "I canna wrong thee."

The Powers aboon will tent thee;
Misfortune sha' na steer thee;
Thou'rt like thyself as nae lovely,
That ill they'll ne'er let near thee.

Return again, Fair Lesley,
Return to Caledonie!
That we may brag, we have a lass
There's none again so bonny.

When a city has five churches
and one hospital it thinks more about a bad hell than it does about health.

If you have a little gas heater
in your bathroom, be sure that the fumes go up the stovepipe and not down your windpipe.

RUMMAGE SALE CREATES RACKET

Terse Exchanges Of Donations Show Rivalry Among Club's Collection

By EVA DANIELS
Publicity Chairman, Tuesday Afternoon Club
Jazz—Jazz—Jazz—“Heavens,” what a racket! I was compelled to place my fingers in my ears to shut out the noise, when suddenly the din quieted and a sweetly musical voice was heard to ask, “Would you care to hear me? I am melodious and enjoyable, even if not quite new,” and the strains of “Lucia” softly and sweetly lulled my tired brain.
The record finished, and a pair of shoes said with disdain, “Look, just look at those pointed toes over in the corner. They must give everybody a pain.” At this Pointed Toes took umbrage and declared haughtily: “I was worn by one of the prettiest girls in Glendale, and when I was on her feet she never had to sit down while there was dancing going on. That's more than you can say. Flat Heels. Some girl will be mighty glad to buy me when she would pass you up.” Flat Heels stamped her feet in rage and answered: “H'm! I may not look pretty to the eye, but there is plenty of wear in me, and oh! what comfort! Why, I have heard my mistress say when she had returned from a busy day, with tired feet and swollen, ‘Oh, for those blessed flat heels of mine,’ and with groan and sigh she pulled off her pointed toes and slipped easily into me, then smiled so happily that she looked beautiful.”
“Hush, hush,” said Round Toes, “let's make peace,” and they all quieted down until they heard a befeathered hat shriek: “Get out of my way, Sailor Hat, I want to see myself in the glass. You're so homely what are you looking in the glass for?” Sailor answered with contempt: “Let me tell you, I was worn on a head that contained brains. That is more than you can say.” “Well,” retorted Feathers, “she didn't show it when she put you on. Ha ha, I bet that cut! Didn't it, ‘Tri-corne?’” Tricorne would not become a part of the argument, and answered: “Each to her own taste. As for me, I prefer a little toque, it is so chic.” But she added hastily, as she noted the angry curl in Feathers, “There are many times when a befeathered hat is absolutely enchanting,” and they all stopped talking as they heard the hearty voice of Heavy Overcoat say cheerily: “My, but I am going to make some man mighty comfortable this winter.” Light Brown Suit spoke up and said: “Ah, there is much more class to me.” “Class!” smiled Heavy Overcoat. “What's the use of class if your teeth are chattering?” Light Brown Suit answered with charm: “Well, I can be of good service to someone who is too warm-blooded to wear a heavy overcoat in the middle of the day.”
Both looked startled as the heavy fall of something caused them to refrain in their conversation. “It sounds like the Dickens,” said a voice. And it was Dickens, as Oliver Twist was telling what he would do “If Winter Comes” to “Robinson Crusoe,” and they were laughing heartily at the stories going round. (The stories were all clean and wholesome, so no one objected.) They all listened in for more than an hour, when someone suggested that they have a dance, and the records started again with Jazz—Jazz—Jazz.

The noise startled me so I jumped up, and, looking around, found myself in Robinson's Transfer Store, where, in helping to unload all the goods, I grew so tired that I had fallen asleep for just a moment, and once more I, together with the committee, tackled the big job of the Rummage Sale, given to aid the fund of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, under the direction of Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, on October 17, 18, 19, at Central and Elk.

Court Ruling Paves Way to Dancer's Suit

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—The appellate division of the supreme court has set aside a decision of the Rockford county (New York) supreme court, vacating a decree of annulment granted Mrs. Evan Adair—Evan Burrows Fontaine, the dancer, against her husband, Sterling Adair.

The decision of the appellate division places Mrs. Adair in a position to re-institute her suit for $1,000,000 against Cornelius Vanderbilt (Sonny) Whitney, heir to millions. She charged Whitney with breach of promise to marry.

Recover Bodies From Wrecked Submarine

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 12.—The bodies of Ignacio Brbozo and E. Gartner late yesterday were brought from the burned out compartment of the United States submarine S-37 and taken to the deck of the craft. Officials, after inspecting the bodies, said the men had apparently been killed instantly by flying metal in the explosion. The bodies were charred almost beyond recognition by the flames.

Arizona Banker Will Appeal for New Trial

PHOENIX, Ariz., Oct. 12.—An appeal will be filed in the case of W. J. Kingsbury, president of the defunct Farmers' and Merchants' Bank of Tempe, according to announcement by his attorney. Kingsbury was sentenced late Monday to serve from four to five years on conviction of a charge of willful misapplication of funds. Similar charges are pending against Kingsbury's wife and son.

LA CRESCENTA LAUNCH PROGRAM OF WOMEN'S CLUB

President Asks Co-operation of Members in Work
of Coming Year

The flower-bedecked auditorium was the setting for the first meeting of the year of the La Crescenta Woman's club. Mrs. Haskins, the new president, opened the meeting with a request for co-operation from the members, thanking them for the honor conferred on her by raising her to the chair.

Mrs. Nettleton, secretary for the coming year, read the minutes of the last meeting, which was the first annual club luncheon held at the La Crescenta hotel, on May 7. Mrs. Turk, who is returning to the hotel, proposed that the question of entering the Federation be taken up, and also suggested three new phrases be incorporated in the by-laws, being, Culture, Study of Educational Questions, Community Welfare Work, and the Acquisition of Property, Real and Personal. These suggestions met with approval and being put in the form of a vote were unanimously accepted.

The building of the clubhouse was discussed and as the club will have to forfeit its acre of ground, on Los Angeles, if not used within the next twelve months, a motion being made to start building a main unit, as a nucleus for a group of artistic buildings, was seconded and put on record with a full vote, after which Mrs. Haskins named a committee to have charge of the building business.

Mrs. Turk Elected
Mrs. Culberson named as chairman of this committee, declined, on account of many other interests, to act in that capacity, but will assist as a member. Mrs. Turk was named by Mrs. Seymour Thomas for the office and received a full vote. Others of the building committee are Mesdames Aiken, Klatt, Anderson, Thomas, Bissell, Collins and Nettleton. Mrs. Turk, as chairman of the program committee, resigned from this chair, as did Mrs. Reynolds, who was a member of the committee.

Appointed on this committee as chairman is Mrs. Mary B. Darrow. Mesdames Pinkus, Rhinehart, Singleton and Wildhack.

The treasurer presented her statements of the financial standing of the club, which is $2,237.95, this sum being placed in the Montrose State bank on July 6 of this year.

Mrs. Peck and Mrs. Pritchard turned in $17.35 from their silver tea held at Mrs. Pritchard's home in May.

Cheer Up Invalids
As Mrs. Sherb, who is a life member of the club, is still confined to her bed with her broken hip, it was decided the club send a letter of cheer to her, also flowers. It was with a feeling of deep sympathy the club heard of Mr. and Mrs. Bissell's loss, of the little daughter who stayed with them just a day. Mrs. Bissell is at the Glendale Research hospital, and flowers and a letter of sympathy from the club will be sent her.

Mrs. Clapham, another member, it was learned, has been stricken with blindness, which it is to be hoped is temporary. Any member wishing to communicate her sympathy to Mrs. Clapham or Mrs. Sherb, can secure their addresses from Mrs. Fred Anderson, who is the club's corresponding secretary.

A gift basket was suggested to hold any salable articles, the members wish to donate toward a fancy work sale, from the basket to any member wishing to procure a last minute gift will be able to do so. Mrs. Culberson will have charge of the basket and will gladly accept any donations of a salable nature, which should find a ready market in view of the coming season.

A birthday party was discussed. Mrs. Mark Collins suggested all the ladies having birthdays in the same month entertain together, also members having a birthday should contribute a penny for each year towards the club's funds. These suggestions met with approval. Mrs. Turk informed the members of Mr. Crichton's splendid donation to the club, wherein he will draw the plans for the clubhouse and overlook the work groups.

Join Federation
The discussion of the question of joining the Federation received a standing vote of all members, whereupon Mrs. Haskins appointed Mrs. Reynolds as parliamentarian. Mrs. Turk and Mrs. Waddell to act with her as a committee of three to revise the present by-laws, and make application to join the District Federation of Women's Clubs.

New members, voted in by acclamation, were Mesdames Wemple, Findlay, Brown, Poston, Karr, Chudley, Anderson and Miss Shields.

Mrs. Hopkins of Montrose announced the Chamber of Commerce of that community will have a social evening in their new schoolhouse on the first Tuesday in November. All are

VALLEY NEWS BANK OFFICIALS STAGE BARBECUE

Distinguished Guests Attend Celebration Held at President's Home

A Spanish barbecue to celebrate the growth of the Bank of Van Nuys was given by the president of the institution, W. P. Whitsett, at his home last week. A colorful program featured the affair. Many prominent people were among the guests, including Mayor Cryer of Los Angeles, Henry W. Wright, county supervisor, John McGroarty, author of the Mission Play, and well-known local business men.

A slight epidemic of infantile paralysis in the valley is causing the medical authorities some anxiety. Thirty cases are now under treatment. Two children of Mr. and Mrs. Nels A. Johnson, 540 Leedale street, Van Nuys, were sent to the Los Angeles General Hospital after Dr. L. S. Welbourn, local health officer, had diagnosed their illness as infantile paralysis. A warning has been sent to health officers throughout the valley.

Plan Night School
If the demand is great enough, night classes will be held at the Van Nuys High school, it has been announced by Captain J. P. Inglis. He said that a number of residents have expressed the desire to attend such classes.

In a statement issued by the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company, covering a period from January 1 to August 1 of this year, it was reported that Lankershim made the greatest percentage of gain of any town in the San Fernando valley in the extension of service and the second highest in the whole state. As a whole, the valley towns lead over any section of California.

The Lankershim Branch of the Security Trust & Savings bank is collecting pictures of early days in Lankershim to use in an illustrated history of Lankershim which will be given away as a souvenir at the opening of the bank's new building. Many interesting pictures have been received, including photographs of classes at the Lankershim High school in the nineties and the construction of the first car line into the valley.

$1,800,000 Bean Crop
This season's crop of baby lima beans in the valley is expected to net $1,800,000 for the growers. There are about 15,000 acres in the western section of the valley planted with this variety of beans. Seventy-five per cent of the lima beans used in the United States are produced in the San Fernando valley.

The Lankershim Woman's club began its season last week. At the opening meeting the president outlined the coming year's work and many elaborate plans were made.

The World-Wide Church of the Lankershim Baptist guild gave a Japanese playlet at the home of its president, Miss Rose Charter, North Sherman Way, recently. Refreshments were served in Japanese style.

invited. Mrs. Viola Waddell told the club of the splendid offer of Prof. Bamgardt's at the observatory, where he will not only allow them the use of the wonderful telescopes there, but will give an evening talk on astrology. As an evening talk must be reserved six weeks in advance, Mrs. Waddell was appointed a committee of one to attend to this matter.

An announcement by Mrs. Collins, chairman of the entertainment committee, was made to the effect the Woman's Club will give a dance on Friday the 19th. Everyone in the valley is cordially invited to attend, and have a jolly good time.

Doris Packer Entertains
Mrs. Turk, as chairman of the program committee, presented Miss Doris Packer, who gave two remarkably clever readings, "Baseball," an original sketch, "Club Woman." Miss Packer, daughter of Stephen Packer, of Glendale, is a remarkably gifted young woman and the club members thoroughly appreciated her kindness in coming to La Crescenta to entertain them.

Mrs. Rose Allen played the "Meditation" from Thais and was, as always, heartily applauded. Business of the meeting concluded; a social time was spent over the tea cups, the new members being cordially welcomed by the old ones. Mesdames Klatt and Rhinehart poured. Mesdames Culberson, Brown and Collins being on the receiving line.

Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Young have purchased the corner one-half acre and house on Los Angeles and Community streets.

Mr. and Mrs. Young have occupied this property for some time, as it belonged to Mrs. Young's sister, Mrs. Waltz of Florida, the deal being made before Mrs. Waltz returned to her home in Florida.

The seventh grade being the first to gain 100 per cent membership in the drive for Parent-Teacher association members, was given a party yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Craig, who is room mother, served the kiddies punch and cake. She was assisted by Mrs. Mueller, who has charge of this grade. The party was also in the nature of a house warming, as the grade has moved into its new room this week.

The football game held on the local school grounds yesterday, between La Canada and La Crescenta teams, ended in a triumph for the home team, the score being 18 to 0 in favor of La Crescenta.

Contractors Rushing Work on Race Track

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 12.—The first race of the new Southern California Jockey club is under way.

It is the race of the contractors against time. Hundreds of men and mules are toiling on the 140-acre tracksite near Culver City in an effort to have the track in readiness by December 15, the tentative opening date. The opening was originally fixed for December 1, but it was postponed on information from the contractors who declared they could not possibly complete the work until the middle of December.

The ground breaking exercises at the track were impressive. Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion, was chief shovel wielder. He was aided by King Baggot, noted motion picture star.

Dick Ferris, who organized the club, said the response from horsemen all over the United States has been extremely gratifying. Practically all of the western racing men have signified their intention of entering their strings and many of the eastern owners will participate as the track will give them opportunity to keep their horses working when the eastern courses are closed.
